intentions. A persistent rumor circulates that the cabinet will retire. King Humbert today had interviews with Prime Minister Crispi and Signor Farini, president of the senate. The Italians are said to have lost sixty guns and all their provisions. Another Crushing Defeat.

This is the second crushing defeat that the Abyssinians have inflicted upon the Italians since the latter attempted toextend their power in the domain of King Menelik.

About three months ago five companies of Italian troops, under command of Ma- Asks That Contracts Payable Exclujor Tossell, was surprised and surrounded by a force of 25,000 Abyssinians. The Italians made a desperate resistance and fought until their ammunition was exhausted, when the Abyssinians charged them and massacred nearly the whole force. Fifteen Italian officers and over 700 men were killed.

Only a small number of the Italians succeeded in breaking through the beleaguring lines and making their escape to Makalle. Subsequently the Abyssinians besieged Makalle, and after practically reducing it, allowed the garrison to evacuate the place with their arms and baggage.

Why Baratieri Attacked. All the available transport steamers have been ordered to assemble at Naples or March 7th to convey re-enforcements to Abyssinia

General Baldissera, who was recently appointed to succeed General Baratieri in the chief command of the Italian forces in Africa, has arrived in Massowah. It is reported that Baratieri's attack upon the Abyssinian army on Sunday was the result of his desire to make a grand coup before he was superseded by General Bald-

Italy's Hard Luck. Italy has had the hardest kind of time in her efforts to conquer and retain possession of that portion of Africa which vas apportioned to her in the so-called partition of Africa-that tramph of diplomacy which is at the bottom of all the South African troubles and misunderstand-

There had been many serious misunderstandings before this, for the European na tions recognizing the great wealth of the African continent and its great possible development have been in a squabble over boundary lines constantly. The result of this was a series of meetings at Berlin, Paris and Vienna, which ended in this socalled partition, but that partition was in many respects an unlucky one for Italy. The row over the south African republic and the defeat at the hands of Kruger, of Great Britain, had just drawn the acute attention of the world to south Africa when the rather indistinct rumors of the trouble which Italy was having with her possessions, which are on the eastern coast and father north than the Transvaa! came to hand.

When it came to the partition it was found that all the powers laid claim to the little strip of country, which afterwards became the south African republic, and which was considered of no value, so it was finally decided that the republic should be recognized as an independent power with its foreign relations under the control of Great Britain.

Of all the powers Italy has had the worst luck in Africa. By the terms of the partition each power was to conquer the portion allotted to her. They have all conquered the natives except Italy. The armies of Abyssinia and Harrar have whip ned every army Italy sent out. This last expedition, from the dispatches, has ended not only as badly as the others, but considerably worse. The report of the slaughter of half of an army breaks the record in the list of victories of south Africans over European soldiers.

NO DETAILS OBTAINABLE. It Is Said 80,000 Abyssinians Oppos ed 15,000 Italians.

Rome, March 2.-The government still acks or is withholding full details of the disastrous battle with the Abyssinians. Orlers were given some time ago for the exclusion of newspaper correspondents from the Italian lines and a strict censorship has since been maintained over press dispatches, which makes it difficult for the full story of the Italian defeat to be made known. As a result the comparative scantiness of news causes the wildest sort of speculation and all kinds of undoubtedly exaggerated reports are in circulation. The newspapers here teem with reports, deductions, estimates and comments. All of them, with the exception of the Ezricto, a military journal, ascribe the disaster to General Baratier,'s supposed rashness and his desire to achieve a victory that would offset his being superseded in his command It is the opinion here that General Bara tieri's force numbered 15,000 men, opposed to whom were 80,000 Abyss nians.

Jackson, Miss., March 3.-Following is special message from Governor McLaurin, which was read to both houses of the leg-

His Message.

"Executive Office, Jackson, Miss., March 3.-To the Senate and House of Representatives: I respectfully recommend for your consideration the suggestion that you enact such law as will probibit the making hereafter of contracts payable exclusively in gold. Money is the blood of trade and commerce, and anything that lends to destroy the money of the people is in derogation of their interests and welfare and of the prosperity of the state.

"By the constitution of the United States (section 8 of article 1) the power is delegated to congress to coin money and regulate its value. Proceeding under this authority and exercising this power, congress has coined a quantity of gold and silver and regulated its value, and the people ought to have the right of the circulation of this coin as the money of the state. I say the people ought to have the right to the circulation of this coin because all the money thus coined is needed in the business of the country, and I may add a great deal more could be profitably utilized.

"I do not suppose it will be seriously asserted by any one that there is more coin in the United States than is necessary to serve the uses of money in order to secure, the greatest prosperity to all the people of this country. Nor do I suppose it will be seriously contended that the volume of money can be materially decreased without hurtful results. Where a Premium Arises.

"If I am correct in this, then anything that is calculated to shrink the volume of money in use should be prevented. When debts are made payable in coin of one of these two metals instead of coin of both of them, it is to the extent of such debts. decreasing the volume of money. It also puts a premium upon the coin in which the debts are made payable and discredits the other coin. If the debts made payable in one of these coins alore become con siderable in number and amount, a considerable amount of the discredited coin is driven out of circulation, and if such debts become general the greater part of its entire volume is retired. It is no answer to say that every one makes his contract for himself, and if he makes it payable in gold it is his own concern. It might he replied hat everyone makes his own contract with the usurer, and yet the law prohibits such contracts. But there is a better and more conclusive reply, the reply is that it is no clusively the concern of him who makes Public Interest Is Involved. "The public interest is involved in the consequence of these contracts, if they should become general. The public is interested in anything that destroys the volume of money upon which the people rely for exchange. You may use your own, so long as the use you make of it does not injuriously affect the rights of others, but when the rights of the public are touched you must pause. So when the right to make contracts as one chooses is used to make contracts which, if they should be-come general, would drive out of circulatlon a medium of exchange that is not only convenient, but necessary for the bus iness of this state, the public interest requires that such contracts should n onger be allowed. A Constitutional Equality. "It is not my purpose or desire to elab-orate this view of the subject, but to sug-gest it for your consideration, and if you reach the conclusion that an evil is threatened, I briefly suggest to you that in fram-ing the constitution of the United States, the states before that time having power to make anything a legal tender, their power over the subject was restricted in the following language, in section 10, of article 1:

"'No state shall make anything but gold and silver coin a legal tender in payment of debts.' The power to make the coin had previously in section 8, been delegated to conpower and made coin and regulated its value, the power to make that coin a legal tender the states have reserved. If the legislature shall enact a law that the gold and silver coin of the United States shall be a legal tender in payment of all debts hereafter contracted and that this shall apply to all debts (hereafter contracted) state or federal, may be invoked for their collection in this state, and will be done that is in the power of the state to avoid an evil that, in my judgment, threatens great danger. Respectfully,

"A. J. M'LAURIN, Governor.

Gadsden, Ala., March 3.-(Special.) -Elljah Keener, a heretofre respectable white man, was jailed here last night on the charge of attempting to assault Miss Mat-tle Doeg, a young white girl who is living in this city with her aunt.

Keener has been trying for some time to get the girl to stay with his wife on the mountain about three miles from the city. The girl has always refused to work for him until today, when he offered her $2 per week for her services. She agreed to this and at half-past 3 o'clock this afternoon the two started on foot for Keener's home. When they had reached the top of the mountain Keener bagan to make improper proposals to the girl. Finally the man attempted force, which the young girl heroically overcame. She fought him to the last and succeeded in escaping, after losing both of her shoes and a part of her clothing. She reached home completely exhausted, but managed to tell the story.

CONDITIONS OF THE RESERVE. Withdrawals Yesterday Were Less Than $100,000.

Washington, March 3.-The treasury gold reserve at the close of business today stood at $124,397,292. The withdrawals for the day amounted to $91,700.

The treasury announces that of the $100,-000,000 in gold for which the new bonds were sold, $96,773,182 in gold has been paid in. Since January 6th $36,681,52 in gold has been withdrawn from the treasury, of which $9,924,133 was for export and $26, 757,528-was for "domestic use." The cir-culation of all kinds of money in the United States decreased during the month of February $60,978,550, of which $53,969,935 was in gold. This large decrease is due to the money having been paid into the treasury on the bond account. The total of all kinds of money in circulation on March 1st is placed at $1,528,742,057, or $21.59 per capita.

WEYLER SAID TO BE INVESTIGATING

Not Likely, However, That He Will Attempt To Bring the Cowardly Wretches to Justice.

Havana, March 3 .- The affair at Guata. will not down. Captain Weyler, after officially announcing that nothing outside of the ordinary between the troops of Spain and armed rebels occurred, has begun an investigation. He was waited upon yesterday by a delegation of women from the little hamlet of Guatao and the town of Punta Brava and heard with his own ears the story of the killing from the mothers, wives and sisters of the dead, and listened to the appeal for the lives and liberty of the

is confirmed beyond a question of a doubt A Blundering Arrest. In the endeavor to prevent it from being proclaimed to the world, the authorities made the bad blunder of arresting Charles Michelson, correspondent of The New York Journal, and his interpreter, Lorenzo Betancourt. They were taken from their beds at 2 a. m. on Tuesday, lodged in Moro castle "in communecade" until Wednesday atternoon, by which time the officials discovered that they had the wrong men. All the other American correspondents have been shadowed since, but even if the two who did go to Guatao are found out, it is doubtful if they will be arrested, for the reason that another arrest will be a confession that the first was a mistake. late to prevent the story going to the states and that they have no case against the men who went to Guatao. There have been stories of other affairs of a similar nature in various parts of the island, but owing to difficulties placed in the way of correspondents, it has been next to impossible to verify them, and the assurances of the officials that they were untrue were given full weight. An Investigation. The affair at Punta Brava and Guatao, however, was within twelve miles of this city, and two American correspondents went to the two towns as soon as rumors of the nature of the occurrence was re ceived. The killing took place Saturday afternoon. The bodies had been buried on Sunday, but the earth was still moist on the graves when the correspondents reached the scene. They walked about the town, which was well nigh deserted, talked with neighbors and relatives of the dead, inspected the houses in which unarmed men had been shot and bayoneted to death and women who prayed on their knees for the lives of their husbands and sons had been knocked insensible. The fronts of the houses showed no signs of having been fired upon as would have been the case if insurgents fought from them. No outer doors or windows were broken. All but half a dozen houses were thatched roof huts, affording no protection and from which no resistance could be made. The only building which could have been used

Some of the insurgents having taken the direction of Guatao, one mile south, the troops moved upon the town shooting right and left as they entered, killing the inhabitants who ran from their homes in alarm upon hearing the firing. The cavalrymen who killed men running across the fields brought their bodies in, carrying them across the horn of the saddle or dragging them if the distance was short. The bodies were laid on the ground in front of the main store.

Abusing the Dead.

One trooper who was kicking and spitting at the body of a man whom he had killed was stopped by an officer who told him not to abuse the dead. One of the inhabitants of Guatao was Ladistao Quintera, an American citizen. He had not been fighting with the insurgents and had no arms.

He hid in his house and though his wife, with a two months' old babe in her arms threw herself in front of the soldiers, they forced their way in and shot Quintera, the ball passing through his arm. He was made prisoner and is now in Moro castle, His wife and mother have made full statements of the affair to the American consul which will be forwarded to Washington. Twelve bodies were left in the street for the inhabitants to bury.

About forty peaceable residents of Guatao were found in a field near Punta Brava and said to have been taken prisoners to Guatao and afterward killed by soldiers. Fifteen prisoners were compelled to walk to Marianao, five miles away, and were so badly bruised and cut from blows received on the way, that they required medical attendance upon arrival. Three physicians from Punta Brava and Marianao who are members of the Red Cross Society, went to Guatoa to attend the wounded. They found the dead in the street but no wounded.

"Quintera, the American prisoner, had his wound dressed at Marianao.

"The arrival of troops with their prisopers late Saturday night at Marianao and the information of what had occurred. terrified the residents of the delightful suburban town so that many left their homes and came to Havana. One of the volunteers, a man named Eduardo Sanchez, a storekeeper, of Marianao, openly boasted that he had gone into a house and killed a man under a bed. The commandant of the post and alcalde of Marianao, marquis de Cervera, who sent out the troops, made a report to Captain General Weyler Sunday and one Havana paper issued an extra on the 'glorious victory.'

'In his official report the marquis says: The column I sent out has obtained a brilliant result, thanks to the extraordinary efforts of the gallant Captain Calvo. The bands of Villannova and Acosta have been totally destroyed, twenty dead having been found and delivered to the mayor of Guatao in the presence of many neighbors in order to give them proper burial; fifteen prisoners, one of them wounded with a ball, ten horses with saddles taken, sun dry rifles, machetes, etc. The number of wounded is great.'

In concluding his report Cervera says "All are worthy, your excellency, for the have all done today what your excellency so gloriously did at Jarnia in Santo Do mingo thirty years ago.'

Cubans say that the Jarnia incident was also a butchery.

WHAT OF WILLIAMS?

NOW COMES THE REPORT THAT years. SPAIN OBJECTED TO HIM.

No Information as to His Alleged Resignation Can Be Obtained. What the Situation Is.

Washington, March 3 .- The report that Ramon O. Williams had tendered his resignation as United States consul general at Havana cannot be confirmed officially, but it is understood on excellent authority that it is true and that the letter of resignation was delivered at the state department within the past three days. The desire of Mr. Willams to withdraw from the consular service at this critical aspect of the relations of Spain and the United States is somewhat surprising, particularly as he returned to Cuba not many months ago with the understanding, as it was supposed here, that he would remain until the insurrection reached some definite settlement.

It was understood at that time that Consul General Williams had become persona non grata to the Spanish authorities in for the reason that through a West India express agency in Brooklyn, with which his brother was connected, an alleged underground method of communica-tion had been opened with the insurgents. It was also said that while this was put forward unofficially as a reason for Mr.
Williams's desired retirement, another very potent factor in his unpopularity was his insistence were the his insistence upon the rights of Ameri-can citizens to fair trial and treatment in Cuba. On this latter question as to the rights of the United States consul general to act in a quasi diplomatic capacity and present remonstrances to the captain general of Cuba when the liberties of American citizens were involved, very pointed correspondence took place between Secretary Olney and the Spanish minister in Washington. In a letter dated September 26, 1895, and laid before congress by the president February 11th last, Secretary Olney distinctly asserted the right of the co general to make representations where rights of his countrymen were in volved "simply as the local depositary and delegate of the sovereign power for the purposes and to the extent of the usages fixed by treaty," and he said to the Spanish minister: "I address this note to you in the expectation that the direct relations known to exist between yourself and the superior authority in Cuba will enable you to set the governor general right upon this important point." The governor gen-eral was set right and Consul General Williams, who awaited a decision on this matter at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., returned to his post of duty with a distinct recognition of his powers of remonstrance in the name of the United States.

Mr. Williams came to Washington in re-sponse to a request and at the solicitation, as it is understood, of the president and the secretary of state decided to return to his post.

Mr. Williams had been in continuo service in a consular capacity at Havana since 1874. He of course speaks Spainsh fluently and has discharged the duties of his position with marked ability, though alternately charged with favoring first one side and then the other in the insur-rectionary troubles on the island. The precise reason for his resignation at this time is a secret carefully guarded at the state department.

MIX-UP ON THE MESSAGE.

SENATORS DID NOT KNOW WHAT THE HOUSE RESOLUTIONS WERE Error Was Made by the Clerk of the House Senators Are Angry at De Lome.

Washington, March 3.-(Special.)-There was a slight echo of the Cuban affair in the senate today, the senators not seeming to understand whether the house resolution was a substitute to the senate reso lution or a separate measure.

This grew out of a mistake on the part of the clerk of the house. The house reso lution is a substitute for the senate reso. lution and the senate will be so notified tomorrow in the senate committee on foreign relations. It is probable that the senate will take it up at once and adopt it. That may be done tomorrow.

Senators Are Angry. The senators are very indignant at the statement which the Spanish minister cabled to Madrid and which has been cabled back here.

Senor Dupuy de Lome telegraphed his government that our government objected to the formal remonstrances he was instructed to make against the insults offered to Spain in speeches delivered in the senate and the minister added that the senate "is an irresponsible body and that the government depends from the president, who does not influence the chambers.

Inspired Statements. This statement on the part of the Span-sh minister evidently came from either the president or the state department and it would seem to indicate that the president is of the opinion that he is the ruler of a monarchy rather than the president of a republic.

A prominent senator told me today that if the president failed to take action in regard to the concurrent resolution the two houses would pass a joint resolution which he would be forced to either sign or veto.

The best opinion here is that Spain will not resort to a declaration of war against the United States, but will be forced to accept the resolutions recognizing the be!ligerency of the Cubans.

Sherman Will Be Heard From. When the senate takes up the house substitute resolution it is understood that Senator Sherman will make another vigorous speech in which he will deal with the action of the Spanish government, and that the true situation and the president's attitude will be defined by his spokesman in the senate. The rumors that Consul General Willlams, at Havana, will resign, are believed to be true here. If that is the case another appointment will have to be made at once Mr. Williams has been in Cuba several Fortification Bill.

Colonel Livingston said today that the on appropriations was now pre paring the fortification bill and in the event that it appeared that Spain would resort to hostilities a very large appropriation would be made for fortifications. E. V. B.

A BEFORE ELECTION LETTER That Did Not Materialize After the Election.

New Orleans, March 3 .- (Special.)-Hon. W. S. McAllister, of Mississippi, today gave out the correspondence between Phesident Cleveland and himself respecting a declara tion in favor of state bank issues to catch 'southern alliance suckers.' wrote from Canton, Miss., August 8, 1892. calling Mr. Cleveland's attention services in disrupting the Farmers' Alliance and to the danger then confronting the democrat party in the south from the steady growth of the populist party. He went on to denounce the subtreasure scheme, but insisted that the people of the the subtreasury south must be given something in lieu of that heritical measure.

After calling attention to "symptoms of revolt against our party," Mr. McAllister

"The literature contemplated by my plan consists of compilations showing the won-derful economy practiced by your former administration, its absolute freedom from even suspicions of fobbery and corruption, your great messages generally, and especially your great tariff reform message of 1887, and documents proposing state bank issues, based upon the plank in the Chicago platform demanding 'the repeal of the 10 per cent tax on state banks issues. The principle in the subtreasury scheme to increase the currency is very popular in the south with a great many very intelligent voters and this idea can be so embodied in the state bank scheme as to meet every phase of the situation. I have in mind a formula which, if judiclously handled would do nore to win back our erring brethren and reconcile them to our party and its superb ticket than all other agencies combined. This can be made, to state it differeven suspicions of fobbery and corruption superb ticket than all other agencies com-bined. This can be made, to state it differ-ently, the 'something better' so loudly de-manded by the disciples of Ocala; and, as before stated, if presented to the before stated, if presented to them with proper regard for political discretion, will, in my opinion, catch more southern alliance suckers than any other method that could be employed or invented."

To this letter Mr. Cleveland replied as follows:

"Gray Gables, Buzzards Bay, Mass., August 15, 1892.—William S. McAllister. My Dear Sir: I have just received your letter of August 8th, setting forth the political situation in sundry of the southern states and suggesting the manner in which existing ills should be remedied. The questions discussed are topics so peculiarly within the province of the national committee that, so far as they concern any agency outside of the sound democrats of the several states, I shall take the liberty of referring your letter to the committee. I beg leave to say, however, that the plan you propose seems to me an excellent one. I am fully in sympathy with those and all other means which may be employed to stay the tide of discontent among the southern people with the organization to which they have so long been attached. Very truly yours,

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

Which they yours, Very truly yours, "GROVER CLEVELAND." McAllister says that after indorsing his plan Cleveland sent it to the democratic national committee and McAllister was called upon to go to the New York head-quarters and put his plan into operation. He wrote a pamphlet demanding the issue of state bank notes, based on state and county bonds, and the democratic committee scattered these pamphlets throughout the south.

GROYER SPOKE FOR MISSIONS

HIS SPEECH WELL RECEIVED

Said He Talked as Fellow-Citizen President and Servant.

LEFT BEFORE THE MEETING ADJOURNED Booker T. Washington and Several Others Made Timely Addresses.

New York, March 3.-The opening gun of a big home mission campaign was fired tonight at Carnegie Music hall by the board of home missions of the Presbyterian church. The announcement that President Cleve land was to preside at the meeting was of itself sufficient to draw an immense audience to the hall. The doors were opened at 7:15 o'clock, but long before that time the crowd began to gather. Five minutes after the doors were opened every seat in the immense hall was filled.

The audience was a very enthusiastic one and the remarks of the various speakers were cheered to the echo. The object of the rally was to stir up public interest in the work of the home mission and to raise funds for completing the payments on the new building of the society on Fifth avenue. The meeting tonight was the first of a series to be held all over the United States. It was exactly five minutes after 8 o'clock when President Cleveland appeared on the platform. He was dressed in a black frock coat and wore a turned-down collar and a black tie. There was a burst of applause when the Rev. Dr. John Hall introduced President Cleveland as the presiding officer of the meeting in a brief speech.

Dr. Hall, in introducing the president, "My Christian Friends-We have with us "My Christian Friends—We have with us here one who has been twice called by the voice of his fellow citizens to the highest official position in the United States and one who has, I understand, some happy family associations with our board of home one who has, I understand, some mapper family associations with our board of home missions. I have the pleasure, therefore, by the direction of the board of home missions, and I count it an honorable duty, to invite the president of the United States to President Cleveland Speaks. President Cleveland then came forward. He was received very warmly, but the cheering was by no means boisterous. His remarks on the foreign m ssionaries' suferings were loudly cheered. He spoke as follows:

"I desire to express my appreciation of the privilege of participating in this conference and of the opportunity thus afforded me of testifying to the value and usefulness of the work undertaken by the board of home missions of the Presbyterian

"My interest in this subject and my familiarity with home missionary efforts are not newly-acquired. They early came to me in the surroundings of a Christian Presbyte rian home, and were stimulated by a father's faithful labors in the cause. My early impressions are not, however, the only basis of the testimony I give tonight in favor of home missions. As your fellow citizen, interested I hope in all things that deepen the religious sentiment of our people and enlarge Christian influence, I fully realize the transcendent importance of this agency in its operation upon the hearts of men for the salvation of their souls. The long oster of those who have been led into the way of righteousness through the instrunentality of our missions are rich trophies of successful endeavor.

Fellow-Citizen, Executive, Servant. "But it is not only as your fellow citizen, but as the chief executive officer of your government, that I desire to speak, for I am entirely certain that I serve well our entire people, whose servant I am, when I here testify to the benefit our country has eceived through home missionary effort, and when I join you in an attempt to extend and strengthen that effort.

"No one charged with the duties and responsibilities which necessarily weigh upon your chief executive can fail to appreciate the importance of religious teaching and Christian endeavor in the newly settled portions of our vast domain. It is there where hot and stubborn warfare between the forces of good and evil is constantly invited. In these days the vanguard of ocupation in a new settlement is never withut its vicious and criminal element. Gambling houses and dram shops are frequently among the first establishments in a new ity. It must also be confessed that removal from old homes and old associates to a new and more primitive home has a ency among honest and respectable settlers to smother scruples and to breed toleration of evil and indefference to Christianion and elevating agencies. These conditions, if unchecked, fix upon the new community by their growth and expansion a character and disposition which, while dangerous to peace and order in the early stages of settlement, develop into badly regulated municipalities, corrupt and t safe territories and undesirable states. When the People Rule.

"There are serious considerations in country where the people, good or bad, are its rulers, because the conditions to which I have referred would certainly menace, within a circle constantly enlarging, the cafety and welfare of the entire body politic, if we could not hope that churches and religious teaching would from the first, be on the ground to oppose the evil influences that are apt to pervade the beginning of organized communities.

"These churches and these religiou teachings were never more needed tha now on our distant frontiers, where the process of forming new states is going on so rapidly and where new comers who are to be the citizens of new states are so rap'dly gathering together.

"For these instrumentalities at the outpost of our population, so vitally important in the view of Christian men as well as patrictic citizens, we must depend to a very great extent on home missionary exerticn. How can we excuse ourselves if we permit this exertion to languish for the lack of proper support Stay-at-Home Must Provide. "If we turn from the objects of home actually toiling in distant fields, for God and humanity and a purer, better clitizen-ship, our sympathy with their work must be further quickened and our sense of duty to them and their cause actively stimulated. These are the men and women w have left home and the association friends under the direction of organized mission boards to teach Christianity in sparsely-settled sections, and to organize the churches where none exist, enduring mfort, hardships, poverty and danger for the sake of a cause to which, in a very comfortable and inexpensive way, we pro-fess to be attached. These are our soldiers at the front, fighting our battles, and we who do stay at home cannot escape the duty of providing for them and re-enforcing them in every way if we are to continue them in our service.

"Our hearts have recently been profoundstirred by the dangers that threaten devoted men and women who have gone from among us to preach and teach. Christianity in a foreign land. Our sympathy with them and those who labor and suffer is made more painful because the arm of complete relief has not thus far been able to reach them. Our missionary impulse should be large enough and strong enough for both.

"While we will not turn away from them nor allow discouragement to destroy activity in their behalf, let us not forget the missionaries in our own land who leed our aid, to whom we owe a duty and who can be reached.

be reached.

"It seems to me that if the Christian people of our land estimate at its real value the work which the board of home issions has in charge, and if they can be made to realize the extreme important the means to carry on and extend this work will be easily forthcoming; and I hope that such an unusual interest may be aroused in behalf of the cause by the movement of which this meeting is a part as will suggest to many hertofore indiffer-ent, that among the most comforting of their possessions will be a share in the rtiumphs and achievements of home mis-

Other Speakers.

When the president had concluded, the Rev. William C. Roberts, D. D., offered up prayer. Then Rev. Sheldon Jackcon, D. D., superintendent of missions for Alaska, made an eloquent address. Then followed Rev. Dr. Talmage and Rev.

Charles L. Thompson.

After Mr. Thompson had concluded his address the ushers took up the collection, after which President Cleveland introduced Booker T. Washington, principal of Tuskegee institute, Alabama, as the last speaker, and he promised the audience a treat in hearing Mr. Washington's address. said he would have to forego part of that treat, owing to the fact that he had to leave for his post in Washington. Booker Washington was greeted with applause and was applauded time and again.

At 10:45 shortly after Washington began, President Cleveland left, after which the interest in the meeting seemed to an extent to have gone, as many of the audience left.

An overflow meeting was held in the Central Presbyterian church, on Fifty-seventh street, a short distance from the big gathering A great crowd was expected to see the president and as some must be disappointed, the second meeting was arranged. It was presided over by Rev. J. Malcolm Shaw, of the West End Presbyterial church, who said that the field of for the home missions was limitless. Its vastness, goodness and possibilities he thought incomprehensible. Booker T. Washington, Rev. Theodore L.

Cuyler and Dr. Shaw also addressed the

A HEARTLESS MAN

RUNS HIS WIFE, THE MOTHER OF EIGHT CHILDREN,

Away from Home and Attempts Criminal Assault on His Daughters-A Posse After Him.

Reidsville, Ga., March 3 .-- (Special.)-C. M. Sikes, who lives about four miles from here, about three weeks ago carried his wife to Albany and put up at a hotel for the night. Some time during the night he arose, dressed and boarded the train for home, leaving his wife in bed asleep about one hundred miles from home and without a cent. He left a note on the bureau telling her not to come back to him, as he did not want her.

This was the first time the poor woman had ever been at a hotel or had ever rode on a train. Waking up next morning and finding her husband gone she saw the note he left. After reading it she went down stairs to see if she could find out anything about her husband. She went to the landlady with her trouble and told her that her husband had left her without a cent and that she had eight little children at ne and wanted to get back to them There was a purse made up and a ticket bought for her and she took the next train for home. Arriving at home the next day she found her husband, who ordered her not to come in the house. She told one of her little girls to bring her some of her clothes and took what the child brought her and left. She came to Reidsville and got a position as cook in the family of Mr.

J. J. Easterling. Last night about 8 o'clock some one called her at Mr. Easterling's gate, and going out she found her three little girls, who told her that their father was after them and they wanted her to hide them so he could not find them. Upon further investigation is was learned that he had been rying to criminally assault them. The mother took the little girls over to the justice of the peace's office and two of them swore that their father had attempted o assault them. Two of them are twins, about fourteen years old, the other is about

THE JUDGE IS ABSENT

And a Jury in Savannah Wishes He Was on Hand.

Savannah, Ga., March 3.-(Special.)-A jury is locked up in the city court which has been out for three days. It is considering the suit of Miss Mary E. Lough-ran, of Brooklyn, N. Y., against Watson & Powers, proprietors of the DeSoto hotel, for $3,500 for the loss of some diamonds which were stolen from her room in March, 1893. Judge Norwood left the city Saturday night and has not yet returned to release the jury and declare a mistrial The jury announced home time ago that it could not reach an agreement, but the court's absence makes it necessary for it to spend another night in seclusion.

TOO SMALL TO HANDLE. Judge Speer's Charge to the Jury About

Savannah, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—
Judge Speer, in charging the grand jury in the United States court today, called special attention to the law against illicit distilling, but he said the man who used an empty lard can and an elder stem to make a few drops of alcohol from cane skimmings was not a violator of the law and should not be indicted.

In speaking of the offense of doing a retail liquor business without United States license he said the Afro-American citizen who goes to a country festival with half a pint in his pocket and doses it out to his friends at 5 cents a drink is not a retailer and does not come within the pale of the law. Minor Offenses.

Heretofore such cases have resulted in indictments and the defendants were either found not guilty or got off with the lightest kind of a sentence if convicted. Judge Speer stated that he did not wish to have any of these trivial cases brought before him.

Was Not an Inexperienced Hand That Drew the Spikes

FROM RAILS AT STONE CREEK

A Negro Suspected as Being the Man That Did the Work Has Disappeared.

Macon, Ga., March 3 .- (Special.)-The Southern railway has offered $1,000 reward for the apprehension of the parties who caused the wreck at Stone creek. This, with the governor's reward, makes a total of $1,250.

General Superintendent Green spent today at the scene of the wreck, leaving for Atlanta this afternoon. He coincides fully with other officials that the wreck was the work of wreckers. Another clinching fact that wreckers renoved the rail is that spikes that were on the cutside of the removed rail were not withdrawn by the wreckers, but that these spikes were driven up to the head in the crosstles by the wheels of the passenger engine, which went pounding over them. The spikes which were removed were on the inside of the rail and the rail could then be easily slided from under the spikes on the outer side. An inexperienced person would naturally have drawn out the spikes from both sides, but a person acquainted with track laying would know that it is only essary to draw spikes from one side in order to remove a rail. Moreover, unless the person had a special bar for the purpose he would not have attempted to draw the spikes from the outside of the rail there would be danger of falling off the

There is a report affoat today that suspicion rests strongly on John Redding as one of the wreckers. He has relatives residing near Stone creek and it is said he lives in the vicinity, but has disappeared ince the wreck.
Redding is a brother of the negro who was shot and killed a short time ago, near Cochran, on Conductor Lowry's train. It was alleged that Conductor Lowry and Baggagemaster Wippler participated in the affair which resulted in the death of Redding. Redding was making murderous re-sistance and a regular fusilade of pistol shots from railway officials and others was fired at him, and it is not known whose bullet killed him. It was Conductor Lowry's passenger train which was wrecked at master Wippler was killed and Conductor Lowry narrowly escaped death. It is said that he would get even with Conductor Lowry for the shooting and death of his brother, and many think that the wreck at Stone creek was the fulfillment of that threat. Redding's relatives are said to live a settlement

Brady Slipped Away.

Where is J. S. Brady, of Dublin, Ga. This is a question that the Macon police and especially Detective Jenkins is asking On last Saturday Chief of Police Butne received a telegram from Marshal Hata-way, of Dublin, Laurens county, to arrest Brady, who was thought to be in Macon. Officer Pierce, who knew Brady, quickly located him and he was put under arrest, about 1 o'clock p.m. Brady, in charge of an officer, was to have gone to Dublin in the afternoon about 4 o'clock, but they missed the train. Chief Butner then placed Brady in charge of Detective Jenkins and told him to keep him at a hotel Saturday night and Sunday until an officer arrived for Brady from Dublin. On Sunday afternoon Detective Jenkins and Brady took a buggy ride, as the day was dull in a room at a hotel. Brady got out of the buggy and entered a business place on Bridge row, and that was the last seen of Brady by Detective Jenkins, Brady is supposed to have gone out of the rear door of the store, jumped the back fence and taken refuge in some house near by, and when night came on effected his escape.

By the peculiar division of the board it will be necessary for one of the majority faction to east his vote for himself for the chairmanship if the minority should decide to block things. There are seven members of the board and the minority has three of the seven. MADDOX'S REMARKS Caused Considerable Comment in the City Yesterday. The remarks of Councilman Maddox is seconding the nomination of Captain Eng lish for the police board chair at the council meeting Monday created a decided sen sation in the city. It is claimed that the police board elected Captain Wright chief of detectives for Mr. Maddox said that he hoped to vot for a man who would "aid in raising the police department out of the dirty mire falling into the hands of political trader and amateur politicians." He declared that the present force is disorganized. He inferred that the harmony and good feeling existing in the department when Cap-tain English was chairman of the board on an equality with them in point of authority. Captain Wright claims that he is still assistant chief of police and that he is entitled to the salary of that officer until March of next year, unless removed for cause in the regular way. He did not exist now. Mr. Maddox asked himself the question What is the department now? He answered by saying that it is now what it was not when Captain English was chairma moved for cause in the regular way. He is of the opinion that he was elected to the office of assistant chief of police and of the board—"a political power that is a menace to the good order and well being of the force, as well as a source of danger to the rights of the citizens."

The councilman stated that he had been informed that more than one half of the members of the force had become closely identified with an oath-bound secret politi-cal organization, "which has for its obects many things inimical to the welfare izens." He continued by stating that he did not believe that the statement could be disputed or refuted "however damaging or damnable it might be." He asked, "How then, in the name of fairness and justice to the interests of Atlanta, can I be expected to vote for any candidate in sympathy with such an administration of the police de-

The case will prove to be an interesting Tammany in Atlanta. Mr. Johnson Has a Word. Mr. George E. He says that Mr. Maddox's picture of affairs in the police department is not correct. He says that the force is not dominated by politicians.

"Mr. Maddox went at this thing in the wrong way. He has not consulted the proper persons in seeking his information. He has been sadly misinformed. His conclusions are not based on the facts at issue. He should have asked the officers of the police department for information. Chief Connolly says that the department was never in better condition than at present. He says that his men are doing good work. The records show that the force is doing splendid service. The only way to get at the truth of the matter is to ask the men who do the work. There is not a better police department in the United States than the Atlanta police department. I make no exceptions. All of this talk about the dirty political mires is the imaginating of Resourceful Brain at Work. States than the Atlanta police department. I make no exceptions. All of this talk about the dirty political mires is the imagination of a resourceful brain. There is no such thing. Less than thirty days ago the chief of police of Knoxville came to Atlanta to study the methods of our department. He went away pleased. He said that our police force was well managed. He said that he had learned many things which would be of benefit to him in connection with his duties as chief of the Knoxville department. Letters asking for information about the workings of the department have been received from other cities.

P. G. WALKER.

No. Straddle! No Juggling!

We print in another column some re marks from The New York Evening Post in regard to the probability of party straddles on the financial question in the conventions this year. The Post thinks that straddles will be an impossibility, and we hope and believe that our contemporary is correct. The question must be settled one way or the other in the near future; it must be settled either in favor of the people or in favor of the money power, and we trust that the matter is beyond the power of the shifty politicians in both parties to erade or postpone. In the northeast, the republicans and some of the democrats are standing shoulder to shoulder on the money question. The leaders of both parties there, whatever the rank and file may be, are in favor of the single gold standard. The money power-the gold owners and the bond holders-does not belong to any party. It has no political principles to speak of, and asks for nothing except that the value of the gold dollar, the purchasing power of which has been artificially doubled, shall be maintained. It does not deal in goods-in staple commodities-it deals in money, and it demands that the article which it deals in shall retain its artificial value and increase if possible. Those who give the money power its strength and influence are democrats when the democeratic party is to be influenced, and republicans when the republican party is to be controlled.

Heretofore they have compelled the leaders of both parties in the northeast to masquerade as "bimetallists," "inmany worthy people in all parts of the country. Moreover, they have succeed ed in committing the platforms of both parties to declarations susceptible of jugglery and evasions. In the democratic convention of 1892, when the committee on resolutions made its report, Mr. Patterson, of Colorado, offered a clear and unequivocal free coinage substitute for the financial plank. Immediately the eastern delegates protested against this and assured the convention that the plank reported meant free coinage. This satisfied those who were disposed to dissent, and the resolutions were adopted as they were reported.

In various ways the people have been deceived by the active agents of the to the nation's capitol by an American money power in both parties. But we state. think the period of deceptions, evasions, straddles and juggles has about run its course. We believe the people are so heartily tired of the hypocrisy that has marked the attitude of the political leaders toward the money question that they will no longer tolerate the practice Already, indeed, in both parties, leaders are coming to the front who represent the honest voters of the country, and who will demand clear-cut and unmistakable declarations.

The free coinage republicans have al ready announced their policy in the senate, and it means that either the eastern republicans will have to abandon their advocacy of the gold standard or place their policy of protection on the shelf. The ultimatum of the free coinage republicans has been presented, and it will cut a very large figure in the republican convention. At least the republi cans will not be permitted to straddle except at the risk of inviting defeat.

The eastern democrats will face a sim flar difficulty at Chicago if they undertake to shuffle and evade the question We hope and believe, however, that the eastern democrats will not undertake to repeat so dangerous an experiment The money power itself has thrown off its mask, and is no longer arguing in favor of "international bimetallism." but boldly demands "the maintenance of the present standard of value, the gold

Under these circumstances the eastern leaders will have no excuse for dodging and evading. The money power has made a bold declaration, and there is no reason why the democratic party in its national convention should not equally as bold, equally as unequivocal. If it proposes to represent the voters who give it strength and influence as a party it will declare for the immediate restoration of silver-for the free coinage of both gold and silver. anything-even a declaration in shuffling and hypocritical evasion. Such a declaration would win more applause from the people than anything that smacks of dishonesty.

Gorman Enjoys the Situation. The pending receivership proceedings affecting the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company comes as a morsel of revenge to Senator Gorman, of Maryland.

It was in 1887 that the great Baltimore and Ohio showed its first signs of weakness. While the majority of the stock belonged to the Garretts, and the affairs of the road were under their complete management, there were other powerful interests at stake. The state of Maryland, the city of Baltimore, the Johns Hopkins university and a large number of estates were holders of stock. By some means the rumor reached the public that the surplus of the company represented over $23,000,000 of pure inflation.

The minority interests, which had been watching the recklessness of the Garretts, became thoroughly alarmed, and an investigation was called for. This was resisted by the Garretts with all the power which they could command. Finally the investigation was secured, one of the parties named to prosecute it being Senator Gorman. The result was the disclosure that the surplus was nothing more than wind, that $8,000,000 had been expended in politics and champagne, and that only the most rigid management could save even the wreck of the company.

Ever since that time the Garrett influences have had it in for Senator Gorman. They turned the full working force of the company against him. In the late state election, which was carried by the republicans as a protest against Gormanism, it was the Garrett interests which overthrew democracy in order to strike at Gorman.

But now that the company has reached the acute stage of receivership Gorman can enjoy the discomfiture of those who have plotted against him. Their humiliation comes in good time to enable Gorman to grasp the demo cratic machine again and re-establish his rule as the political dictator of Maryland.

Dangerous and Odious.

The demonstrations that have been made by the American Protective Association against the statue of Pere Marquette, recently placed in the old repesentative hall in the federal capitol, is as interesting as it is instructive. It shows more clearly than any other demonstration has shown that apaism, in essence and substance, is more dangerons to American institutions than the imaginary enemies the American Protective Association is fighting, even if these enemies were real and not the fantastic dreams of intolerant and nar row-minded persons. It shows that apaism is both un-American and undemocratic to the last degree.

Pere Marquette was a Catholic priest who, in carrying the gospel of his church to the Indians of the northwest had occasion to perform the work of an explorer. His services in this respect were so important that a city in Wisconsin bears his name, and when that state came to make her contributions to the statues that are to adorn the capitol, commemorative of some event in her history or of some name dear to her past, she chose as one of her memorials (being entitled to two) the statue of the good priest who was ternational bimetallists"-and have, in the first white man to gaze on the land this way, succeeded in deceiving a great and the rivers that now go to make a great state.

So anti-American is apaism that the police of the federal capitol are compelled to stand guard over the contribution of Wisconsin to prevent its destruction. The Catholic church will be as dangerous to American institutions as the American Protective Association is when its agents go about threatening to blow up and destroy the statues of Protestants. That day has never come in this country and never will; but it remains for a secret organization, pretending to "protect", American institutions from this, that and the other, to introduce anarchistic methods and to threaten to blow up statues contributed Bigotry, intolerance and fanaticism of every kind, and from every source. are dangerous to society, the more especially when their movements and their plans are secret. There is nothing more odious to free institutions than a secret, oath-bound political organization.

Is Mr. Carlisle a Candidate? It appears that the money power is beginning to understand and appreciate the situation. At any rate it is making open and unequivocal declarations in favor of the British gold standard, and is vowing that it will support no candidate who is not "in favor of maintain ing the present standard of value-the gold standard." Events are developing very rapidly, 'A member of the cabinet who talked with the president on this subject last week," informs the Washington corre spondent of The New York Herald that "President Cleveland would not accept another nomination for the presidency even if it were possible for him to have an absolute guarantee of his election. This statement was made to the afore said correspondent as a sort of preface to the information that Mr. Cleveland favored a candidate who was devoted to his financial policy, and in whose be half he intended to exert the whole in fluence of his administration. "John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky," said the cabinet officer in response to a direct question, "is Mr. Cleveland's candidate. Personally and politically Mr. Carlisle is the choice of the president, and has been for months." This, then, is to be Mr. Carlisle's reward for turn ing his back on democratic doctrine and swallowing his utterances in favor of the remonetization of silver. As Mr. Cleveland's candidate Mr. Carlisle recently attended a dinner given by the bond syndicate, at which he was prompt seize the opportunity of making

Very well. Let the democratic cor rention, whether it nominates Mr. Carlisle, the gold candidate, or some man who is in favor of American bi metallism, make a plain, simple, unmistakable declaration one way or the American Manhood.

Whatever may be the outcome of the present complications which surround the United States, one thing, at least, has been established, and that is that American manhood may be depended upon for any emergency.

When the first Napoleon was riding roughshod over the nations of Europe, toppling crowns and holding kings as prisoners, he contemptuously referred to the English as a nation of shop-keep ers. This expression of contempt came from men who were merely idealists as against men who engaged in business and who attended to the practical af fairs of life. It set up in comparison the men whose greatest ambition was to wear gaudy uniforms and to march to the strains of military music as against the men who worked in the field, who stood behind counters or who were skilled in artisanship. Yet when the day came that meant defeat to Napoleon, it was at the hands of these shop-keepers who knew how to work in time of peace and how to fight in time of war.

This characteristic of the English na tion has been inherited by the United States. Immersed though our people may be in business, they are ever ready to stand up for their rights and they have not and never will reach that point where business and selfish interests will be so strong that they will not rally to the call of their country and fight for their convictions. In the Venezuelan and Cuban complications the government has never been for an instant without the active support of all the people in any aggressive measure which it might choose to inaugurate. It is as well for the mock chivalry of such nations as Spain and those of southern Europe to know that our people are even ready, and that when they enter upon any enterprise they will enter upon it as assured winners.

The Future of Spain One of the possible outcomes of the present condition in which the Spanish government finds itself may be a return to the republic. Years ago when Castellar was in his prime he led the republicans of Spain to victory and secured the establishment of a republican form of government. The people were not fully pre pared for the change; they were too idealistic and the result was that in a short time there was a return to the monarchy. The man who led in the return to the old order of things was none less than Martinez Campos him-The subsequent death of the young King Alfonso, leaving his Austrian wife as queen regent, has converted the government of Spain into a military cabal, where the soldier stands for everything and the civilian for

It is hinted that the revolution in Cuba has been largely aided by republican emissaries who hoped to throw the monarchy into disrepute by its failure in that island, and thus prepare the way for a revolution in Spain herself. These people, it is said, are ready at the proper time to make the movement at home. The sending of Weyler to Cuba is apt to develop some of the correspondence which led to the revolution; which would compromise the Spanish leaders, who will be forced sooner or later to take steps to protect themselves.

There is no question but that the Spanish regency is in great danger, and it would not be surprising to hear at any moment that Queen Christina had departed from the country with the same precipitation which marked the flight of King Amadeo, when he returned to his Italian home.

A Good Suggestion.

A suggestion made by Councilman Culberson, and put by him in the shape of a resolution before council, is one which will doubtless meet with the approval of the people generally.

It is, in brief, that the street railway companies inaugurate a system of head lights for the trolley cars by which the cars of each route will be distinctive. Such a change would be a great convenience to the public and would entail little or no extra expense on the part of the companies.

It is a good suggestion-let the change be made.

Disputes Between Nations.

The professors of Dartmouth college are, in the language of Robert Burns. 'unco guid," and if they had the power they would abolish war and its attendant horrors.

At a recent session of the members of the faculty resolutions were passed de nouncing war, and pledging their efforts to bring about the time when arbitration would settle every cause and when the strongest nation would bow down even to the weakest. For this purpose they would have established in every nation boards of arbitration to whom questions of dispute would be referred, and who would settle all matters of such a character. It is too bad that the millenium is so far off. These good men will have to content themselves with the reflection that they live in a very wicked world, and that while war is not as frequent as it used to be, it is because of the favor of the single gold standard—will in favor of the gold standard, and now cause of any increased good be better and more satisfactory than a one of his companions in the cabinet people who hesitate to venture upon the field of battle. War has become an exensive luxury, and it is only those who see their way clear to make their opponents pay the full indemnity who care to venture into such conflicts. The history of the late war between Germany and France is a case in point. While the Germans gained much military renown, they gained a great many more shekels in payment for what they did.

And now comes Corbett and wants Fitzsimmons to stop his bombastic newspaper talk!

Mr. Chauncey Depew appears to be one of the leading lights of the Salvation Army. We are glad to hear this. We had begun to fear that Chauncey could do nothing but drink champagne and make funny speeches. But it seems that he can be a social sport and at the same time be truly, truly good.

Some eastern mills are shutting down and others are closing altogether. Hooray for the British gold standard!

Mr. Cleveland has bought some "duckshooting grounds" on the Potomac. He proposes to have some fun while the people are electing their next president. But the people some times want a little fun, too.

If the gold standard men can get Mr. Carlisle nominated by the democratic convention it will be a great victory for him, but what sort of a victory will it be for Mr. Carlisle?

It is thought that we will surely have prosperity after the next bond issue.

No doubt the syndicate is already pre paring to take the summer issue of bonds.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Joseph Medill, the editor and owner of The Chicago Tribune, never does anything by halves. He has just commissioned a noted American sculptor to go to Washington to make a study of the best portrait of Benjamin Franklin in existence now in the Corcoran art gallery, for the purpose of a statue of heroic size, which he poses to present to the city of Chicago.

A scorcher story is told of Donald Menzies, a cyclist of Cape Colony, South Africa, who had a peculiar experience recently. He was riding along the main road from Cape Town to Somerset, West Strand, when an ostrich, attracted apparently by what was in his eyes a novel vehicle, commenced to waltz around the blevele. After a few preliminary antics, the bird took it in its head to pace Mr. Menzies, and, so long as it abstained from using its wings the cyclist and the ostrich managed to run a dead heat. However, after covering about half a mile in this way the ostrich utilized its stumpy wings and spurted away at a record-break ing pace, leaving the cyclist far behind.

NO STRADDLE THIS YEAR

From The New York Evening Post. One thing seems assured by the outbreak of the republican silver senators. That is an end of the attempt to construct a financial plank in the national platform this year, which can be interpreted in two ways, as has been the case since 1884. The trou ble began with the bid for silver votes that McKinley induced the convention of 1888 to accept, condemning Cleveland for trying "demonetize" silver when all that he had done was to urge the repeal of the act which one republican president vetoed when congress passed it in 1878, and another republican president urged congress to repeal for four years before Cleveland was inau gurated. Things were made still worse in 1892 by introducing "bimetallism" as a de vice of deception through the committee on esolutions presided over by another politician of the Ohio school, Joseph B. Foraker. This was interpreted by the sound money men to mean the use of silver as subsidiary coin and by the silver men to mean what the term had always been understood to mean. As Senator Teller puts it:

"Bimetallism means the free access both metals to the mint on equal terms, and I now here challenge the senate, I challenge the country to find that prior to 1892 any person had ever suggested that any other definition could be given to bimetallism. Dr. Giffen, the great statistician of England, a gold man, equal in his adherence and devotion to gold even to the senator from Vermont (Mr. Morrill) or the senato from Ohio (Mr. Sherman), has declared over and over again that there can be no bimetallism without the coinage of both metals

Any man who asserts that it means any thing else is either ignorant or means to deceive. He either has not studied the question and does not know, or, having studied the question, he does not mean to tell the truth. He who says that bimetallism means maintaining silver as subsidiary coin writes himself down in opposition to the entire thought of the intelligent and educated world on this subject."

This sort of deception will not be possible this year. The silver men will not be satisfied this time with any McKinley denunciation of the democratic administration for "demonetizing" silver, or with any Foraker declaration in favor of a "bimet allism" that means one thing in Massachusetts and the opposite in Colorado. On the other hand, the sound-money men will be driven by the necessity of preserving their self-respect to insist upon a resolution that expresses their sentiments so clearly that nobody can have the slightest doubt as to its interpretation.

The latter is, n the eyes of The American, an unpardo esty and political integrity in others since it sacrificed its own and betrayed the people whose ptronage and support breathed the breath of life into the disreputable can cass which now draws its miserable exist-ence from the railroad monopoly and the gold worshipers. It does not now utter a ntiment or attempt an argument on the oney question that it has not refuted a thousand times in its own columns before was "ruined." There is no need of ar inswer to what it argues, but not content with parading its own disgrace, it charges every advocate of silver with dishonesty

"If democracy is to expand, grow and gain adherents it cannot do so by allying itself to a cause which advocates the paying of just debts in cheap money, made cheap for the purpose of defrauding creditors." "Defrauding creditors!" "Cheap money! "Dishonesty!" Think of The American charging the people with dishonesty. When the people of Tennessee read this and think the evils which the crime against silver and against humanity has wrought since 1873: when they think how Carlisle denounce ed it as worse than "war, pestilence and famine;" when they remember that the newspaper which they made has sold them out and become the defender of that crime, they will exclaim, as Anne did to Gloster after he had murdered her husband: oul devil, for God's sake, hence, and tro

"I don't know," said the young man on the stool. "He went out about three weeks ago to hunt another job."

POLITICS IN GEORGIA.

The newspapers of the state almost with g on the can didacy of Judge Crisp and the comment both from political friend and foe, is of a highly complimentary nature. The pa pers like The Macon Telegraph, who oppose his election, pay Judge Crisp handsome compliments both personally and fo his political strength. The Macon Tele graph in a column editorially urges upon democrats opposed to the restoration of silver the necessity of putting out as their candidate a man as strong in the same elements as that which makes Crisp so formidable an opponent, and says:

"In the selection of a man like Judge

Crisp as their leader, the silver men is exhibited rare judgment. In the w state of Georgia they could not have picked a man who would show greater strength before the Georgia legislature gentleman who represents the Third district in the house of representatives. No only is the ex-speaker a man of real ability, winning personality and political shrewdness, but his candidacy for the United States senate carries with it a gla mour which will enable him to get the support of many men who are radically op-posed to his views on the silver question by reason of two facts. The national d mocracy, by its representatives in congress has recognized his great gifts of leadership by selecting him as their chieftain and honoring him and his state and section by raising him, a Georgian and ex-confederate soldier, to a place of honor and power the United States government second only to that of the president. Again, from a sense of duty to the party, Mr. Crisp proved himself strong enough to put asid the great office for which he is now ar strength which Judge Crisp, by his accept ance of the leader's staff, has given to the cause of the free coinage men, so far as the senatorship is concerned."

The Telegraph goes on to urge that the so-called "sound" money element "forget their admiration for the many admirable qualities of mind and heart possessed by Judge Crisp and battle earnestly for the defeat not of the man, but of the princi ple which he represents." The Telegraph agrees with him on the financial question to sink their personal preferences and adds this significant suggestion:

"Those gentlemen who favor honest mor cy and by right of recognized ability and patriotism have contemplated asking at the hands of the legislature the honor of representing Georgia in the United States senate must yield their personal ambi-tions to the public good and make way for the selection of that man, whoever he may be-The Telegraph has no personal favor-te in view-who can best solidify the sound money forces, who can most surely preven defections to Judge Crisp, and who can offset whatever desertions there may be by compensating gains from the opposing forces.

This is certainly a compliment and, in leed, a just tribute to Judge Crisp's strength and popularity. The papers which agree with Judge Crisp's views are enthusiastic over his announcement. One of these The Herald, of Albany, which says:

"It has come. Hon. Charles F. Crisp has written a letter to his people which puts him squarely in the race for the senate to succeed John B. Gordon. Glory The Albany Herald says in its introduction to the Crisp letter: "It is a strong, manly letter, and it will give great satisfaction to the brilliant Crisp's thousands of friends throughout the state. The announcement of Mr. Crisp will at once clear the political sky in Georgia, and the friends of free silver wil now know who their candidate is. And the duty of every free silver democrat is plain. It is to support Crisp for the senate.'

The Americus Times-Recorder, which is The Americus Times-Recorder, which is Judge Crisp's home paper, comes out strongly for him in this way:
"Judge Crisp's plain, open, but modest letter to his constituents puts an end to all doubts on the senatorial question as far as he is concerned, and now that Georgia knows she will have an opportunity to further honor the distinguished ex-speaker and leading democrat of today, there will be a rally to his standard that will reflect credit on the patriotism of the entire state. credit on the patriotism of the entire state. Crisp is logically the candidate for the serate all frank and honest men must ad-mit, and that he will be elected goes withmit, and that he will be elected goes without saying. The Times Recorder only recently paid its loyal tribute to this distinguished and much loved Georgian, and put the world at large on notice that we were for him first, last and all the time, should he desire election to this high and honorable position. Judge Crisp has spoken the word and The Times Recorder, with his thousands of strong friends and supporters, is ready to do battle if necessary to promote his just and laudable political aspirations. It was like Judge Crisp to do just as he did. In making this announcement of so much moment to himself, his family and his country his thoughts turned homeward, and he bestowed upon his home paper. The Times Recorder, the pleasant privilege of heralding abroad the news that he hadd determined to trust his political future in the hands of his home friends, to the kindliness of those he loves in the Third district and fo the justice of Georgians for whom he has labored and speut the best years of his life, gaining nothing but what his God-given nerve and brain entitles him. Nobly will Georgia accept this trust and work to promote the ambition of one, if not the most, distinguished American citizen that lives. The Times-Recorder will keep the faith. God grant for the honor of Georgia that others will do likewise." out saying. The Times Recorder only

The Athens Banner says of his candidac "Without going into any lengthy eulogy in the merits of Ex-Speaker Crisp or his claims to the office he seeks, we simply state that in our judgment he is pre-eminently the man for the position. His views on the great questions of the day, and especially the financial question, are such as suit the views of the democracy of Georgia, and consequently we wish him much such announcement in this way:

"There is no question but that Mr. Crisp is strong among the people of Georgia, and the fact that he was once offered the senatorship and declined on account of his duty to his party, makes his candidacy the stronger. Mr. Crisp filled the position of speaker of the national house in such a manner as to reflect credit not only upon his party and himself, but upon the state of Georgia, and is now, as the leader of the minority in the house, displaying an ability of which the democracy of Georgia is proud."

Hon. T. J. Dempsey, who represented the county of Butts in the last legislature, is in the city on business. Colonel Dempsey ar nounces that he will not be in the senato-rial race from his district, and that some time ago he made public announcement of the fact that he would not run

"The only pronounced candidate so far for the senate," said Colonel Dempsey, "is Hon. Alex Atkinson, who represented the county in the legislature several years ago, and who is a strong advocate of the restoration of silver. There has been some talk of other candidates, but I think that Mr. Atkinson's chances are the best. The peo-ple down our way are not doing a great deal of talking on the subject of the United States senatorship, but I think the county is unquestionably for Crisp. No, I do not know who will come to the house, but I do know that I shall not be a candidate for anything this year.'

There has been no fermal announce There has been no fermal announcement of candidates for congress from the Third district as yet, but the friends of the gentlemen who have been prominently mentioned in that connection are sure that in a few days something of that kind will occur. They waited until he returned and tried to prove to him by a man named Johnson, who was with Mercler this time, that he had agreed that that affidavit which they had prepared was correct and tried to get him to swear to it. He tried to make them go away, but could not do it and finally had to go and get Mr. R. S. Greer, his neighbor, to help drive them away. Mercler threatened to whip Greer for interfering. Mrs. Augusta Clay, the wife of the juror, was sworn and testified to subtsantially the same facts as those testified to by Mr. Clay himself.

At 11:50 yesterday morning Marshal John Humphries stepped into the office of Mr. Joel Hurt and served the warrant for the city council notifying him that unless the tracks on Capitol avenue and Auburn avenue were replaced within forty-eight hours city attorney would proceed to take steps to force the forfeiture of the franchise of the company on these two one of two plans. One plan is to make a contract for a term of years, three to ten, the city to pay the Chamber of Commerce $5,500 a year and the Chamber of Commerce to pay all city, county and state taxes, insurance and necessary repairs. That is for the entire building. The other plan of lease covers the same periods at a rental of $3,500, Atlanta paying the taxes, insurance and repairs. The proposition contemplates the payment of the rent monthly and reserves the use by the Chamber of Commerce of the office now occupied.

"In the event of a sale to the city the Chamber of Commerce would first pay what debts it owes—it owes yet some $30,000 and the residue would be laid away for investment as the chamber directs. It wouldn't President Hurt was seated at his desk tilted back comfortably in a big chair looking over various office accounts when the door opened and the marshal appeared. Marshal Humphries walked up close to the desk before President Hurt noticed who it was.

"I have here a little communication from council for you," said the marshal, drawing the resolution from his inside pocket and handing it to the president. Mr. Hurt smiled and began to read the resolution. It notified him that the city council of Atlanta, assembled in regular ession, had passed a resolution approved by the electrical committee declaring that the Consolidated Company should replace the tracks torn up, after forty-eight hours' notice, and that if this was not complied with the city attorney should be instructed to take such action as should either force the company to replace the tracks or give up the franchises.

"I think I have heard something of this

"Yes, this is a matter which has been talked of a little during the last two or three days," replied Mr. Humphries. Mr. Hurt laughed. "When will you place Mr. Hurt looked toward the state capitol and the marshal thought he heard mething about the supreme court.

actual cost of construction of building and the value of the grounds at the time the lease was made. The value of the ground is to be ascertained by appraisement made by seven disinterested freeholders, three selected by Atlanta, three by Venable Bros., and one by the other six. The cost of the building is to be ascertained by a committee of the general council, a committee of the etitzens appointed by the mayor in connection with the city engineer. These gentlemen are to have a general supervision of all the work as the building goes up, all of the plans being agreed upon by the parties.

Should Atlanta buy, the purchase price is to be paid in cash or in Atlanta bonds at market value or partly in cash and partly in bonds at Atlanta's option. The building is to be ready for use by March 1, 1897. There are those who think this better than the chamber of commerce proposition—either the lease or the purchase.

On the lease Atlanta will pay $12,000 a year for 41,000 square feet, about 30 cents a foot, whereas the Equitable gets $1 a square foot.

Atlanta now with 17,000 square feet in the chamber of commerce and some outside renting with other expenses that would be saved by the change, pays $10,300 a year. The city hall costs $5,400, the military, which would be housed in the new building, thereby saving that rent, gets $3,300. Four hundred dollars to go, to the Atlanta Charitable Association for rent. That association would be housed in the basement. Atlanta pays $600 for lights and heat whereas the Venable contract is to furnish both with the building. All that foots up $10,300, which the city now pays out as stipulated.

Dr. Scott has written several volumes familiar to the reading public. With an idea to making this improvement Superintendent R. L. Hope accompanied the jail committee on its recent trip and while the commissioners were inspecting the jails, Dr. Hope was looking into the arrangements for the care of the poor of each county. Dr. Hope was well pleased with his trip and returned with many ideas which had been gleaned from the trip. railroad world for Governor W. Y. Atkin-

When his political career is done it is possible that he may assume the duties as president of some big line, if experience and successful management count for aught. Yesterday morning a letter was received at the executive department containing a check for $20,000, which represents the net earnings of the Northeastern railway for the past ten months. Governor Atkinson im-mediately turned it into the state treasury. This sum was larger than was expected of the state officers.

The road was advertised for sale and was to have been sold off on February 17th at Athens, according to the act of the legislature. At that time, however, no pur chaser appeared, no bids were received and the road continues to be operated by the state. In reality the road cost the state $100,000, although the bonds indorsed by the state amounted to $287,000. The earnings in the last ten months have paid the interest on these bonds and placed into the treasury $10,000 clear profit. At present the road is operated by Mr. R. K. who will continue in charge until disposition of the property is made by the The New Code. The code committee was in session in the office of Governor Atkinson yesterday morn-

The attention of the commissioners was called at the last meeting to the condition of the bridge which now spans Peachtree creek. This bridge, it is said, has long been considered to be dangerous and unless weight of the heavy country wagons which daily pass over the structure. At the last meeting of the board the bridge committee was instructed to investigate the matter and was also authorized to advertise for bids and make a report at the meeting

Routine business will occupy most of the Routine business will occupy most of the sess.on this morning and but little of interest to the public will be done.

One of the new improvements to be undertaken by the commissioners before the expiration of the present year is the building of an imbecile ward at the county almshouse. This has been needed many years and as the county increases in inhabitants and this class of unfortunates grows in number, it is absolutlely necessary that some better arrangement be made for the care of the imbeciles. no communication was made with any member of the jury, and that this could not have occurred, as there was no occasion or possibility of such a thing having been Mercier Disparred.

The action and conduct of Mercier was brought to the attention of the bar and by an order of court Mercier was asked to show couse on November 20th why he should not be desbarred. The case was heard on November 28th, but Mercier was not present, neither was it shown to the court that he had been represented by counsel or that an answer had been filed. An order was then, taken disbarring Mercier and striking his name from the members of the bar and those who practiced in the state courts.

At the next bar meeting Mr. Hamilton Douglas stated that he was not present at the time the disbarrent was taken, as he had a leave of absence from the court. But a sthe name of Mr. Douglas did not appear as the attorney of Mercier on the room for them and have not the means at our disposal to make any additions to the present building.

"Now, of course, it is not my idea to hurry things through when we are not prepared for it, but I am thinking of the needs at the farm and as soon as is practicable I will ask that an appropriation be made by the county commissioners and this money will be used in making the farm more useful and more comfortable to those who are compelled, through adverse circumstances, to be its guests."

The year's work may also include the building of a new bridge across the Chattahoochee river and other improvements that may be decided upon later, which are at present being discussed.

ing for the purpose of considering bids for publication. No contract was awarded, but it has been determined that the price of the next code will be materially reduced. The old code was bought in by the state for $6 a volume and sold for $10.

The prospective code will be issued in three volumes and it has been determined by Governor Atkinson that the price for the three volumes will amount to only $2.25. It is thought that the code will be ready for distribution by the last of May. The committee has been hard at work and have accomplished much in revision.

To Take Up the Duncan Case. The case of Adolphus Duncan will probably be taken up by Governor Atkinson some time today, and a decision made in some time today, and a decision made in regard to his application for pardon.

A strong plea has been made for executive clemency. In the light of evidence which has developed since the last trial, Solicitor Charley Hill has taken up the case and urged upon the governor that the negro be pardoned. He appeared in person at the hearing before the governor several days ago and also sent a letter declaring that other evidence should insure his pardon. The attorneys of the condemned man urge their claim for a pardon upon the grounds that Mrs. Sanner, as shown by witnesses recently found, was in the habit of walking through the woods after dark, that Duncan was some distance from the place at the time of the assault, and upon other positive facts.

With this evidence and other urgent reasons it is urged upon the governor that the pardon be granted. Governor Atkinson will take up the case for consideration today. Unless the pardon comes Duncan has only three more days of life.

The St. Paul Stock Crossed Burlington Quincy Yesterday with the General List Higher.

New York, March 3.-There was a material falling off in the volume of business at the stock exchange today and dealings in stocks dwindled down to 201,578 shares, against 227,000 shares yesterday. The decrease in business was due chiefly to the fact that operators in stock have recovered from the scare produced by the Baltimore and Ohio receivership and the action of congress on the Cuban question. Finding ess on the Cuban question. Finding the supply of stocks small, recent short sellers endeavored to cover, and this, with moderate buying for the long account, led to an advance near the opening of 1/4/22 per cent. In the rise Cotton Oil preferred, Louisville and Nashville, Laclede Gas preferred and Tennessee Coal were most conferred and Tennessee Coal were most conspicuous. An incident of the day was the rise in St. Paul to 774 and the decline in Burlington and Quincy to 76½. This is the first time in the history of the stock exchange that St. Paul has crossed the Burlington and Quincy. St. Paul now stands second to the Northwest in the stands second to the Northwest in the Granger group. In the afternoon trading Tobacco dropped from 77% to 76 on reports from St. Louis that the outside companies intended to go into the cigarette busi-ness. This gave rise to a rumor which could not be confirmed that the American Tobacco had sold $1,000,000 new preferred stock. The break in the stock exerted an unfavorable influence on the general list, but the decline, except in the case of Rubber, was unimportant. The stock named dropped 3 per cent to 24½ on the revival of the reports of internal dissensions. Toward the close a steadier feeling obtained in the general market. St. Paul at this time exhibited considerable strength. Baltimore and Ohio securities were less active and if anything somewhat steadier. The market closed steady to firm in tone. to be taken within a few days. We are told by good authority that there will be no extra dividend. Although it is admitted that the amount of surplus belonging to the stockholders holds out the promise of an extra dividend at some future time. It is intimated that the purchases of raw sugar and the payments which will mature thereon form an important element in sugar affairs during the next few months. People who watched the trading in sugar yesterday did not reach very clear opinions. They said the buying was good at times and then again the selling looked best. Some of them believed, however, that the extent of the advance justified a decline greater than that which has occurred, merely on the amount of ordinary reaction in that stock.

If there has been good selling between 115 and 118 it is reasonably safe to expect that the reaction will carry the price be-

There is very persistent talk in some quarters, which are frequently well informed, to the effect that a 2½ dividend on St. Paul next week is quite probable. It aspears to be certain that some interests represented in the board are demanding vigorously that 2½ be declared. The idea of most of the directors, however, is believed to be that while the stockholders are entitled to a 2 per cent dividend now, it is advisable to wait and see how the spring wheat crop turns out this year before putting dividends on a a higher level than has obtained since the suspension in 1888. There is very persistent talk in some movement. Baltimore and Ohio was less actively dealt in, but its price sagged.

In the industrial list Sugar showed strength at a light advance. Tobacco broke a point on rumors of a fresh issue of preferred stock and increasing trade competition, and in the late afternoon Rubber developed weakness, losing nearly for any other reason. It is unfortunate that a mistake in reporting the Augusta receipts caused quite a little selling at one time and a break in prices. They were said to be 1,820 bales, but this was corrected to 182 bales, and then prices immediately strengthened. There was a report in circulation that Memphis had received 3,270 bales, but the right figures were 327. The port receipts were estimated at 17,000, but they fell nearly 2,000 below these figures, being 15,177 bales. Mobile received only 18 bales. The arrivals at Galveston, Houston, Charleston, New Orleans and St. Louis, as well as at Memphis and Augusta were light, and the estimate for Houston tomorrow was only about half the total for the same day last year. At first, however, prices declined 2 to 5 points on this crop and 1 point on the next owing to some decline in Liverpool, depression in Manchester and liquidation. Subsequently there was a rally on some improvement in Liverpool and covering of shorts. Then came a set back, owing partly to the mistake about Augusta receipts, then a rally when the correction was made and liberal buying orders were encountered. The political outlook is regarded as more peaceful. It is not believed there is serious danger of war with Spain. Liverpool declined 1-16d on the spot with sales of 10,000 bales. Futures there declined 1 to 2 points, closing steady. In Manchester yarns were weaker and in cloths buyers were holding off. The New Orleans receipts tomorrow are estimated at 5,000 to 6,500 bales, against 3,373 last week and 28,414 last year. Memphis received today 327 bales, against 196 last week and 636 last year; Houston 1,047, against 3,073 last week and 28,414 last year. Memphis received today 327 bales, against 196 last week and 636 last year; Houston 1,047, against 3,073 last week and 749 last year. Memphis shipped 1,340, St. Louis 1,403 and Houston 3,482. Spot cotton here was unchanged with sales of 566 for spinning and 500 delivered on contracts. Mobile, Savannah. Norfolk and Augusta declined 1-16c and C

Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter. Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, March 3.—(Special.)—Liverpool was again lower this morning and May broke 5 points on the first call, the opening trades being at 7.36, but that was the lowest of the day. Although the market had occasional spells of weakness, the general tendency seemed to be of a reactionary character and May railled to 7.44. The close was barely steady with 7.43 bid for May. After the close 7.44 was bid for May. Most of the strong houses favor and are working for some improvement in prices, and unless Liverpool gives way again we seem likely to have a higher market tomorrow.

point where any adverse weather condi-tions might bring about a sharp advance, especially as the market has the appear-ance of being oversold. Locally the feel-ing remains bearish and the trade regards the expectation of any advance as absurd. The market has shown considerable strength during the afternoon, advancing from the low quotations of the morning on a demand from earlier sellers. This short covering held prices to the close and the trade is d'sposed to take a conserva-tive view of the market.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, March 2.—The Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin, in its weekly review of the dry goods market, says: "The aggregate business in cotton goods during the past week in the dry goods market has shown an increase, chiefly owing to some attractively low prices having worked considerable orders from certain of the larger buyers and to the placing of some good contracts for export. The general trade demand has continued of decidedly moderate proportions on home account, however, and there has been little indication of a general expansion in the operations of the trade. Jobbing trade reports continue encouraging. There have been but few actual price changes during the week, and at the close there appears to be an undercurrent of steadiness at bottom limits, despite the marked weakness of the cotton markets.

The Sun's Cotton Review. ew York, March 3.—Cotton declined 3 5 points on this crop and 1 on the Later this crop was 3 to 5 points ner and the next advanced 5 to 6, closbarely steady with sales of 198,000 barely steady with sales of 198 ing barely steady with sales of 198,000 bales.

Today's features.—Striking features were lacking in today's market, but in the main it was stronger owing to small receipts. They were small at Mobile, where there were only 18 bales; they were small at Augusta, where they were only 182, though at one time a telegraph blunder making them 1,820 caused some operators to sell out. They were small at Galveston, New Orleans, Charleston, Houston, St. Louis and Memphis. The ports were expected to get 17,000 baies and only got 15,177. It is true that Liverpool declined, that Manchester was weak, that dry goods continued dull and that the spot markets were in some cases lower, but Liverpool after all did not show much decline; the political outlook was considered more pacific; and, as already stated, the receipts were light. The price hinged on the receipts more than on anything else today. Men are beginning to realize that the crop movement does not seem to point to a yield much if any over 7,100,000 bales, and as for the next crop no one, of course, knows anything about it. Just now the price looks low to a good many, and today buying was reported by Inman, Swann & Co., Henry Heinz & Co., Munn & Co., Lehman Brothers, Hubbard Brothers, Price, McCormick & Co., R. Seidenberg & Co. and many other commission houses. Some of this business of course was to cover shorts, but many feel more friendly to cotton than they did recently.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Snow and Colder Weather Causes Wheat To Decline Slightly.

Wheat To Decline Slightly.

Chicago, March 3.—Wheat declined in value today principally because of the lack of bull news and the absence of a short interest in the market, which latter necessarily weakened the support. The weather predictions of snow for the winter wheat states was perhaps the most important bear news of the day. The prospect of colder weather following the snow minimizes that danger of injury and sanguine persons are already talking a good and large yield. May wheat opened from 67% to 67% cellend 66% colosing at 66% 66% colosing at 66% 66% colosing at 66% 66% corn managed to display its full share of weakness. The receipts of oats were above the estimate, 423 cars arriving. As in corn, the arrivals were weakening in their effect, but sympathy with wheat was the more important consideration. May oats closed %c under yesterday. Cash oats were steady to %c lower, the closing being the weakest prices.

Provisions—The tone of provisions was firm throughout. Just about half the number of hogs expected came in at the yards this morning, and that market was naturally in an improved condition. Product was prompt to respond to the better feeling of the hog market. A fair business was transacted. At the close May pork and May lard 5c higher.

Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter. market tomorrow.

Is advisable to wait and see how the spring wheat crop turns out this year before putting dividends on a a higher level than has obtained since the suspension in the first of the heavy selling for southern account, though our advices state that the cotton has passed into what seems to be stronger hands and they look for a better business. This view of the situation has been taken by a few of the commission houses who have for a long time refrained from advising their customers to buy cotton, but now, in the face of the rail-way list.

Burlington and Quincy and Rock Island were heavy on the disappointing corn market tomorrow.

Itubbard Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter. Chicago, March 3.—Reports from San Francisco that the Australian demand had ceased and the signal service prediction for snow sover the wnter wheat belt created a very bearish feeling in the market town the situation has been taken by a few of the commission houses who have for a long time refrained from advising their customers to buy cotton, but now, in the face of the improved demand from the liquidation, a conservative view of the market enables them to advise purchase of cotton on weak markets. This is based upon the fact that prices have now reached a light at 200,000 bushels, most of which represented flour. Below fic there was some liquidation by holders who bought yesterday on the strength indicated with very little demand noted until the price reached 60% when shorts were moderate buyers. This buying, however, had little more effect than a steadying influence with the probability now that the wheat fields will be protected with snow against the cold wave which is said to be coming from the northwest. The market for the time being does not look encouraging to holders. On the other hand shorts will likely keep near the shore for fear of a renewal of cash business and lighter receipts in the northwest and possibly a falling off in the shipments from the South American, Russian and Danubian ports.

Corn has been weak on the decline in wheat and larger receipts. Clearances, however, were fairly large, and the cash demand reported good, but speculatively the feeling is rather inclined to the short side, and the market acts heavy.

Receipts of hogs were 12,000 less than estimated with prices loc higher. This looked very encouraging to holders of provisions, but the market on the whole was disappointing to them. After an opening of 10c per barrel higher for pork, half of this was lost on selling by packers, and the market remained almost stationary the remainder of the session. Ribs showed some firmness at the close, but lard was inclined to be weak.

publican Politics.

Norfolk, Va., March 3.—Colonel William Lamb, of this citv, chairman of the republican party in Virginia, is a supporter of Thomas B. Reed in his candidacy for the presidential nemination, while the Hon. George E. Bowden is a McKinley man. The former, seeing that the Ohio man was the favorite in the second district of this state and knowing that Mr. Thomas Lowry, chairman of the city executive committee, was his supporter, has begun to get in his fine Italian hand and have Mr. Lowry removed from office. This is being vigorously opposed by Mr. Bowden, and a split in the party seems imminent. This district favores McKinley, and Colonel Lamb in his official position, is trying to turn the tide for Reed.

fineteen Applicants for West Point Cadetship.

EXAMINATION AT THE FORT

A Special Board Appointed by the War Department Is Conducting the Examination.

The board of special examiners of applicants for cadetship in the military academy at West Point began its work yesterday morning in the administration building at Fort McPherson Nineteen applicants enrolled their names on the register of the board and the day study of the examples which were given them by the examiners. The examination will be continued through Thursday.

When the mental examination is completed the physical examination will be begun, and the applicants will be put through a rigid and severe physical drill. The, will be exercised according to the rules regulating the admission of cadets in the military academy and they must be able to pass this examination as well as the rst before they will have the privilege of ntering the famous school at West Point, The examining board is composed of Drs. Taylor and Wyeth and Lieutenants Tillson. Martin and Kalk. This board is appe under the adspicies of the war department and a printed set of rules and regulations are followed in the examination of students. After the examinations have been completed, the papers are sent in duplicate to Washington and West Point. In the papers sent to Washington the names and addresses of the applicants are included, while in the reports mailed to the examining board at West Point only the numbers of the young men are sent. When the re-ports reach West Point, a board, under the direction of the faculty, will inspect the understanding of writing, orthography and grammar, history, geography, arithmetic and reading, and after these studies are completed, a rigid physical examination follows. Yesterday writing, orthography and grammar were taken up and studied. Thursday the class will be given an opportunity to study and prepare their papers on history and geography and Friday arithmetic and reading will be taken up and this day's work will complete the examination.

A Physical Examination.

The physical examination will be stood just as soon as the mental examination is passed and completed.

This latter examination is conducted by the physicians of the board and is said to be very rigid and severe. The class is put through a series of athletic movements and in addition their bodies are measured and all requirements as to height and size must be satisfied.

and all requirements as to height and size must be satisfied.

The qualifications are that the age for the admission of a cadet to the academy is between seventeen and twenty-four. Candidates must be unmarried, at least five feet in height, free from any infectious or immoral disease or disorders, and generally from any deformity or any infirmity which may render them unfit for military service. They must be well versed in reading, in writing, including orthography, arithmetic, and have a knowledge of the elements of English grammar, of descriptive geography, particularly of our country, and of the history of the United States.

Every calisthenic movement is introduced and the applicant must be able to demonstrate that he is strong and able bodied. In order to make a soldier it is claimed that the health of the applicant must be good, and if he is suffering with any contagious disease or if his parents died of any hereditary disease, the applicant is turned down even though he were to pass the mental examination and score a perfect mark.

How the Appointments Are Made.

How the Appointments Are Made. How the Appointments Are Made.

Each congressional district and territory is entitled to have one cadet at the academy. Ten are also appointed at large. The appointments, except those at large, are made by the secretary of war at the request of the representative or delegate in congress from the district or territory and the person appointed must be an actual resident of the district from which the appointment is made. The appointments at large are especially conferred by the president of the United States.

Applications can be made at any time, by a letter to the secretary of war, to have the name of the applicant placed upon the register, that it may be furnished to the proper representatives when a vacancy occurs. Applications must exhibit the full o'clock in the morning. An account of the fire was given in yesterday's Constitution.

At 6:05 a telephone alarm came in. It called the department to 467 Whitehall, where a few shingles on the roof were burning. Damage very slight.

Box 25 was pulled at 7:18 o'clock. The fire was on the roof at 118 W. Baker street. It was quickly extinguished, no damage being done.

At 8:45 o'clock a false alarm was turned in from box 59. A chimney was burning out in Kennesaw alley.

A bucket of tar boiling over at 351 Marietta street caused box 26 to be pulled at 1:30 o'clock. No damage.

A telephone alarm received at 3:05 o'clock called the firemen to 178 James street, where a roof was ablaze. The damage was very slight.

There have been eight fires in this month and one hundred and six this year, and if the department continues at this rate for the remainder of the year, all previous yearly records will be broken.

The horses and men were all tired out last night. The alarms came in so fast that they were hardly given time to sleep. The long run that has been made on the department clearly demonstrates the need of two new engine houses.

The department is a good one and has a fine record, but they cannot be expected to keep up this record when they are worked to death.

In a feeble voice, weak from exhaustion and fright, Mrs. Lo-gan told as best she could the manner of the attack on her. She said that some time after midnight while dozing she heard a noise at the window of her room. Opening her eyes she looked up and found a man g over her. She thought that the nan was of heavy build and wore a thick mustache. Jumping out of her bed she attempted to run away, but as she got up she was knocked down on the floor. At that instant she saw a thick, stumpy woman and a small boy in the room. All bent over her and the man grabbed her by the throat and mouth to stop her cries for Tied with a New Rope.

The man choked and gagged the victim until she remembered no more. Before losing consciousness she heard one of the three say, "Kill her," and another protest against it, the latter suggesting that she be tied to the bed. Mrs. Logan is unable give a better description of her assailants. When found on the bed her feet were tied together and to the bedstead with a brand new rope which was evidently purchase for the purpose. Her hands were fastened together and tied to her breast by another piece of the same rope. Blood had oozed from her mouth, caused by the grasp of but had been sick and was unable to sleep well. She was in the house alone and pass ed a restless first half of the night. At midnight she was awake and looked at her clock. After that she fell asleep, but has no idea how long she slept. When she awoke again it was when the man stood over her. When she retired she had $19.75 in currency and coin in a pocket in an un dergarment. When she was found yester-day morning the money was gone. Her trunk had been ransacked and turned topsy turvy as if the robbers had searched

Her Son Arrested. Patrolman Jeff Whitley was the first officer to reach the house. Shortly afterwards Detective Harris and Officer Wildauer ar-rived and began work on the case. Mrs. Logan's son, Gus Logan, a blacksmith, who works for E. Manne, on North Broad street, was sent for. He was found at work and when told of the condition of his mother he rushed to the house and to his mother's bed. One of the officers asked him where his mother kept her money and keys. Without hesitation the young man quickly stepped to the trunk and picked up a small box in it. He then got the keys from a box on the mantle. His knowledge of these things was considered suspicious by the officers, because he has not been living at his mother's house for some time. He remained in the room in an indifferent manner for three or four minutes and then said he was going back to work. As he started out the officers took charge of him in the belief that he had assaulted and robbed his mother. keys. Without hesitation the young man

Although There Were Many Blazes His Letter in the Room.

At the foot of Mrs. Logan's bed a letter addressed to her son was found yesterday morning. It bore date of January 24th and the envelope showed that it had been handled a good deal. It looked crumpled, as if it had been in a pocket for some time. The young man was arrested principally on account of the finding of the letter. His mother was unconscious at the time and remained so for several hours yesterday morning. Last night she declared that it was not her son who assaulted her and said that she had the letter at her house since it was delivered to her in January. The young man is still strongly suspected by the officers, but he was released for the want of evidence against him. His mother had him arrested two months ago for assaulting her. He was released by her consent afterwards.

Pleaded for Her Son. His Letter in the Room. After having a few days of unbroken rest, the fire department was kept on the run all day yesterday.
Seven times d.d the large bell tell the eople that an alarm of fire had been sent people that an alarm of fire had been sent in, and seven times was the little red wagon seen flying through the streets at race course speed.

The day was cloudy and rain was expected, but still the roofs were easily ignited by sparks blown about by the breeze that blew continually through the day.

The first alarm was received about 1 o'clock in the morning. An account of the fire was given in yesterday's Constitution.

Pleaded for Her Son. Pleaded for Her Son.

Mrs. Logan has a husband in Rich Springs, S. C. The pair separated several years ago. The woman says that her husband threatened her life many times. She told Chief Connolly that last night. She recovered her strength sufficiently to ride to the police station in a hack to plead for her son's release. When allowed to see her son in the prison hallway the two locked arms in affectionate embrace and Mrs. Logan went while pleading for her boy. The latter proclaimed his innocence and on the declaration of Mrs. Logan that the young man did not assault her he was released. He claims to have attended a ball on Alabama street Monday night, remaining there until 1:30 o'clock. He wore a shirt yesterday which had blood stains on the bosom near the collar. He was unable to explain how the blood got on his shirt.

Was a Cowardly Assault. The assault was a mysterious and cowardly one and the officers are at sea. They are of the opinion that young Logan knows something about the case. Hs mother showed him her money at his workshop late Monday afternoon. He is said to have tept company with a young woman nar Emma Brown and took her to his moth Emma Brown and took her to his mother's house to live some time ago. The officers are anxious to locate the woman. Chief Connolly and his men will continue the effort to capture the guilty parties, but there is no hope for success unless something unexpected turns up. They admit as much

VALUABLE PROPERTY SOLD. THE DOUGHERTY AND IVY ES

TATES AT AUCTION. Real Estate Ten Pronounce the Prices

Received as Excellent-The Purchasers.

Some large real estate sales were made yesterday. The most important transaction was the sale of the estates of Mrs. M. A. and her feet tied to the foot of her bed Mrs. igherty and W. F. and J. Ivy, which took place on the steps of the courthouse.

The first was under the direction of J. chanic streets about 7 o'clock yesterday Hendrix & Co., the real estate dealers. This property consisted of thirteen houses and lots, all central and choice, and the sensibility and then robbed of nearly $20, which she had concealed in a small pocket amount the estate brought was $49,680, which is considered a good price by local capitalists. Dr. R. D. Spalding, the executor, was present, and the sale was conducted under his personal supervision. There was a large crowd of citizens present, and the bidding on every lot was spirited.

The lot at the corner of Gilmer and Courtland streets, was sold to Mr. L. B. Nelson for $10,000. The house and lot at No. 21 Gilmer street was bid in by Mrs. T. A. Kenny for $4,500. A house and lot fronting on Courtland street was sold to Mr. James J. Lynch for $9,100. Mr. W. C. Tolbert bought the house and lot at No. 53 Courtland street, near the new Boys' High school building, for $3,205. Mr. John Morris purchased the old John Flynn home at the corner of Courtland and Gilmer streets, for $4,525. Mr. Morris also bought the property at No. 48 Gilmer street for $4,025. The lots at Nos. 42. mer street for $4,025. The lots at Nos. 42, and 44 Gilmer streets were purchased by Mr. William M. Byrnes for $5,550 and $2,000 and 44 Gilmer streets were purchased by Mr. William M. Byrnes for $3,550 and $2,000 respectively.

A committee was present from the Firemen's Real Estate and Investment Company, and bid in the lot at No. 81 Courtland street for $2,825, also the adjoining property at No. 85 for $2,855. This company is composed of the local firemen, who are making large investments in real estate. A lot on Loyd street, below Trinity avenue, was next sold to Mr. William Byrnes for $2,800. The sale was ended by the disposal of fifteen acres, four miles from the city on the McDonough road, to Mr. C. J. Simmonds for $675.

There was also another important sale at the same place. The estate of W. F. and Jeannette Ivy was sold by Mr. John J. Woodside, the guardian. Mr. E. M. Roberts and Dr. Henry L. Wilson, the real estate dealers, had charge of the auction. Miss Mary T. Smith bought the house and lot at 131 Loyd street for $2,520. The house and lot at 309 East Hunter was sold to Mr. T. A. Grams for $1,605. Mr. E. C. O'Donnell purchased the property at 43 Hill street, corner of Fair, for $1,525. A house and lot at 68 Garibaldi street was purchased by Mr. J. W. Crenshaw for $250. James A. Tiller bid in the lots at Nos. 72 and 74 Garibaldi street for $1,010. A house and lot at No. 70 Garibaldi street was knocked down to Mr. J. H. Moore for $10. About $7,680 was the aggregate of the sale.

STRUCK DOWN IN THE DARK. ITALIAN TEACHER ASSAULTED

MONDAY NIGHT.

Serdinando Stacciaca Attacked on Yonge Street and Badly Hurt by an Unknown Negro.

It was Serdinando Stacciaca, an Italian Professor, who was attacked and knocked insensible on Yonge, near Decatur street, shortly before midnight Monday. He was found wandering in a yard a short distance from the place of attack, his head bleeding and badly bruised. He was stun-ned and could give but a meager account of his experience at the time.

J. Carlisle, of 23 Yonge street, reported the matter to the police shortly after the Italian was found and he was removed to the Grady hospital in the ambulance in a very bad condition. He could not talk plainly and until yesterday morning his name was not learned. In his pocket a card was found by Dr. Brewster indicating his name found by Dr. Brewster indicating his name and profession as stated. An account of the assault made on the Italian appeared in yesterday's Constitution.

Stacciaca says that while walking along the street he was suddenly struck a terrific blow on the back of his head. The lick knocked him to the ground, but he glanced at his assailant and saw that he was a yellow negro of large stature. The negro again struck him in the forehead, bringing the blood freely. The negro then ran away, the blood freely. The negro then ran away, apparently becoming frightened before carrying out his supposed intention to commit robbery. The Italian lay on the sidewalk for a few minutes before regaining suffi-cient strength to reach a nearby house. He is unable to give a good description of his

The Italian is a man of apparent respectability. He came here from New Orleans a short time ago. He formerly lived in New York and is thought to have a family there now. He speaks in badly broken English and little has been learned of his life. He was doing well yesterday and will soon be able to get about, although quite seriously hurt. The assault was made on a public street and the perpetrator did a bold deed.

WHO WILL WIN?

The Election for a Water Board Secretary Today.

THREE STRONG CANDIDATES

In the Race and the Indications Are That the Voting Will Be Long Drawn Out.

A secretary to the board of water com nissioners will be elected today.

The board will meet in regular monthly session during the morning and will receive the monthly report of the superintendent. Colonel Park Woodward, the report of Mr. M. B. Torbett, the acting sec retary, and the report of Chief Engineer Captain Travis. All of these papers promise to be ex tremely interesting, as they will discuss, or rather reflect, important work of the department which has been done during the past month. But probably the most important action of the session will be the selection of a secretary to the board.

The present indications are that every member of the board will be present. Several members of the board, Judge Hillyer, president, Mr. Winship and Mr. have been absent from the city for some time, and at the last meeting of the body there was more than one vacant chair. But all of the absentees have returned and as far as is known all are in the city now and there is every reason to believe that every one will be at the meeting this morning.

For the secretaryship several names have been mentioned, but so far there are only three avowed or pronounced candidates attracting the attention of those watching the race.

They are Mr. M. B. Torbett, Mr. John

Kellam and Mr. Cephas Brown.
Mr. Torbett is a member of the board of water commissioners and has occupied a chair in that body for many years. So long has he been there, in fact, that he has learned the work thoroughly and is acquainted with it in almost every detail. Five months ago when Captain Richard, who had been superintendent for years, died and Secretary Terry, who had grown up in the office, was promoted to the suup in the office, was promoted to the superintendency for the unexpired term, Mr. Torbett volunteered his services, though a member of the board, to discharge the duties of superintendent, so far as keeping the records went, without pay. He did his work to the satisfaction of the board. In January, when the board elected Colonel woodward superintendent and by resolution declared for a secretary, Mr. Torbett announced himself a candidate for the place. or the place. Several other gentlemen were presented,

But the board was not ready to go into

But the board was not ready to go into an election and decided to do nothing until the meeting in March.

It was necessary, however, to have a man at that desk and at the request of the board Mr. Torbett consented to continue his work, for which he was drawing no pay.

Since then a horde of candidates has been working for the place, but only three have been prominent in the race—Mr. Torbett, Mr. Brown and Mr. Kellam—and the probabilities are that one of these three gentlemen will be elected.

In fact, the polling of the members of the board indicates that the race is between Mr. Torbett and Mr. Brown, and that Mr. Kellam's chance, though he is a pronounced candidate, is in the shape of the proverbial dark horse.

The board is composed of Judge Hiflyer, who is president and represents the second ward; Mr. George Winship, vice president, from the sixth ward; Mr. Aaron Haas from the fourth ward, Mr. H. C. Erwin from the fourth ward, Mr. H. C. Erwin from the fourth ward, Mr. M. B. Torbett from the fifth ward and Mr. Albert Howell, Jr., from the seventh ward, Mayor King is an ex-officio member of the board, as is also Mr. Hubert Culberson, chairman of the waterworks committee of the general council.

Both of the ex-officio members have the same right as the other members and can chairman of the waterworks committee of the general council.

Both of the ex-officio members have the same right as the other members and can vote just as often.

So it is that the total vote of the body

Mr. Brown is a son of Mr. C. J. Brown, who has been connected with the city government for years. He is a brother of Mr. Walter R. Brown, a member of the board of county commissioners, and is at present a clerk at the Central railroad offices, where he has shown an efficiency in his work.

offices, where he has shown an efficiency in his work.

Mr. Kellam has been head bookkeeper in the city comptroller's office and has shown his worth there.

Mr. Torbett is known as one of the most expert bookkeepers and accountants in Atlanta, and like Captain Rush, has untangled many tangled sets of books.

The position is worth $1,800 a year.

It is an open fact about the city hall that of all the candidates, Superintendent Woodward prefers Mr. Torbett.

"He is," said Colonel Woodward, yesterday: "and I want you to tell the people of Atlanta I say so—one of the best book keepers I have ever seen. He has brought a ray of sunshine upon the most chaotic lot of books I ever saw, and if the water board wants to serve the city right, it

JONES AND STUART

The Evangelist Drew Large Congregations Yesterday.

ALMOST AS LARGE AS MOODY

"Presbyterians Are Cold Blooded," Said He, "but They Pay Up."

BAPTISTS DON'T RANK VERY HIGH

Rev. George Stuart Preached at Trinity in the Afternoon-Last Night's Service at the Tabernacle.

Sam Jones continues to display the qualities of a live magnet. His fund of humor, anecdote and illustration seems to be perennial and despite the heavy taxation of preaching two and three sermons a day, he bobs up serenely and meets the requirements of the situation with something bright and original.

His co-worker, Rev. George Stuart, came in from Alabama yesterday and will divide with Mr. Jones the laborious work of the campaign. Mr. Jones, however, will average two sermons a day to Mr. Stuart's

Mr. Stuart is a man of brilliant gifts as a public speaker, and though he lacks the reputation of his colleague, he has much of his characteristic humor and preaches with wonderful power and effect. He never wearies his congregation with long sermons and is always bright, practical and entertaining.

Following in the wake of Mr. Moody, comparison between the two evangelists is both natural and unavoidable. So far as the crowds are concerned, Mr. Moody had greatly the advantage. His congregations represented the entire state of Geor-gia and included many persons who lived evond the state limits.

Mr. Jones has come to Atlanta at a time of comparative quiet, when the crowds on her thoroughfare's are largely made up of her own population and such tran-sient visitors as may happen to be in the city for commercial purposes. Notwithing this fact, the crowds that flock to hear Mr. Jones are equally as large as those that gathered under the tabernacle to hear the sermons of the great Moody.

The sermons of Mr. Jones are character-provincial mannerisms, absent from the style of Mr. Moody, and a jovial seldom if ever attempted by the In the gospel flavor of these sermons, however, there is little difference between the two evangelist. Mr. Jones is perhaps a trifle more direct and takes a special delight in airing his twin hob-bies—the club house and the liquor traffic.

"Cold-Blooded Presbyterians." Mr. Jones held forth yesterday morning at the First Baptist church, having secured that sanctuary for his morning services by special arrangement with Dr Hawthorne. This church is one of the largest in the city, and yet every seat was taken, while numbers who were not secure standing room down stairs were forced into the gallery.

The subject of the morning discourse was "Aggressive Christianity." The evangelist began by saying, among other things, that he had a great deal of sympathy for a man who failed in business, but he had absolutely no patience with a man who made a failure of religion. With the truth of God's book on his side and the power of Jesus Christ to sustain him there was no reason for his failure if he kept in the middle of the road and relied upon the strong arm of the Lord.

After discussing the Method st brethren at some length, he pounced upon the Presby-"I like the Presbyterians." said he, "but they remind me of a corpse. Here is a good Presbyterian sister who says 'I can't stand excitement in church.' Bless your heart, sister, you keep cool enough in church, but just wait until you get home and see if you don't raise the devil with the cook for burning the biscuit. You had better raise the devil in church and behave yourself at home." (Laughter.)

Mr. Jones went on to say that Presbyte Mr. Jones went on to say that Presbyterlans, as a rule, were noted for paying their debts and this was more than he could say for the other denominations. The order in which the various denominations squared up their accounts was the Presbyterian first, the Episcopalian next, then the colored brethren, then the Methdists and then the Baptists. "Salvaton is free," said Mr. Jones, "and that reminds me of the negro preacher who said: 'Brethren, de water of salvation is free, but the pitcher cost money, and I'se de pitcher.' (Laughter.)

The sermon was full of witticisms and

His Co-Worker Preached.

His Co-Worker Preached.

In the afternoon a tremendous congregation crowded the aisles of Trinity Methodist church.

After the devotional exercises were over, Mr. Jones advanced to the front of the pulpit and introduced to the congregation his co-worker, Rev. George Stuart.

Said he:

"I want you to hear my friend Stuart, He has just finished a glorious revival meeting and comes to us with a message fresh from God. He has more religion to the square inch than any man of my acquaintance. If you do not like him it is either because you have no sense or no religion. (Laughter.) You can take your choice."

Mr. Stuart spoke under pointal difficult.

Mr. Stuart spoke under painful difficulties. His voice was choked by a severe cold, contracted on his way to Atlanta.
After he began to speak, however, his articulation became more distinct and his strong, eloquent voice pervaded the sanctuary.
The shiptot of his dis-

The subject of his discourse was "Christian Fruitfulness" and declared that every Christian was in duty bound to bring some one else to church. "I have come to the conclusion," said he ,"that if a man gets into the kingdom of heaven he will have to be a hustler." He said that Mr. Moody had made it the rule of his life never to let a day pass without bringing some one to Christ if possible. At the close of his discourse he requested all those to rise who had been the means of converting any one. About ten or twelve arose.

arose.
"Now let all professing Christians and members of the church arise."

testimony, only twelve of you have brought others to Christ, the balance of you are dead vines."

A cordial invitation was then extended to all who wished to mend matters and lead a more Christian life in the future to come up and shake hands with the two evangelists. Quite a large number availed themselves of this invitation, after which the congregation dispersed.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Young Men's Library Association, held yesterday afternoon, it was decided to invest $150 in the purchase of new books transculated.

This is the first purchase arising from the proceeds of the recent entertainment given at the Grand for the benefit of the library.

A special vote of thanks was tendered the committee in charge for the success of the entertainment. Mr. A. A. Meyer as the chairman of this committee is chiefly entitled to the credit together with Mr. J. R. Nutting, who has aided the chairman with unremitting zeal and earnestness. Mr. with unremitting zeal and earnestness. Meyer was designated by the board to convey the appreciative thanks of the as-sociation to each individual who participat-ed in the entertainment and helped to make it such a charming success.

The meeting of the board yesterday afteron was largely attended. Among those noon was largely attended. Among those present were Messrs. G. R. DeSausure, E. C. Kontz, F. J. Paxon, Charles A. Read, J. Hooper Alexander, A. A. Meyer, F. S. Scott, J. R. Nutting, E. M. Mitchell, C. F. Rice and L. L. Knight.

The report of the assistant secretary revealed a most encouraging state of affairs. This report showed that several new members had joined the association during the month and that only one or two members had resigned.

According to the librarian's report the circulation of books had very largely increased since the list of February and the reading rooms of the library had become more popular with the general public.

The lbrary was never in better financial condition, having a snug bank account and money well invested. Every month a certain amount is expended for the purchase of new books sufficient to appease the demand for the latest publications. The shelves of the library are freighted with books of fiction, science, art, travel, history, religion, reference and biography. Miss Annie Wallace, the librarian in charge, is one of the most competent and thorough librarians in the south, and is charge, is one of the most competent and thorough librarians in the south, and is familiar with the best publications of the day, including books, magazines and periodicals.

No one can dispute the fact that the Young Men's L'brary Association has kent steady pace with the onward growth of Atlanta. Both started up directly after the war, and each, after sharing the hardships and reverses of the other, has been permitted to participate in the com-mon prosperity which both have enjoyed.

THEATRICALS IN WHOLESALE. Globe-Tretter Rosenthal and the Many Interests He Represents.

"If there is any man extant who has had an opportunity to study the south this year, I desire to put in a claim to being that man." He had just walked into the Aragor and everybody there seemed to know him.

"Yes, I've developed into something of a globe trotter myself," he continued, "but ave confined my wanderings principally to the south-for which, when I read of blizzards, I am truly thankful. Here this time to tell you of Ada Rehan's southern and Atlanta engagement at the same time to inform you of Roland Reed's return visit for one night only and after that-but two at a time ought to e enough

He was J. J. Rosenthal, general southern agent for Klaw & Erlanger. Mr. Rosenthal was last here with Clara Morris. He took charge of Miss Rehan's tour at Toledo and at the same time is saying good things and putting in work for Roland Reed-though this is one town where that s hardly necessary.

Reed comes the 16th for one night, jumping to Atlanta from Baltimore. He passed through Atlanta Sunday, was in Macon Monday, in Jacksonville last night and goes toward Baltimore the rest of this week. Then he comes back to Atlanta and goes on through for a return engage-ment in New Orleans. Another one of the hustlers who is here win. Goodwin will be here one night next week, doing his new play "Ambition." It the Shrew" and the "Last Word."

Edward Harrigan Coming.

Mr. Edward Harrigan and his New York company will begin a limited engagement of two nights and one matinee at the Grand opera house, commencing on Fri-day night, in a fine revival of 'Old Laven-der" as the opening attraction, the same to be repeated on Saturday matinee. At Saturday night's performance, first time in this city, Mr. Harrigan's latest dramatic drama, "My Son Dan," will be presented. There is always a large and cordial welcome for this most popular of comedians and his well known company and the unique creations of the best offerings of a season's amusements. "Old Lavender" and his well known company and the unique creations of the best offerings of a season's amusements. "Old Lavender" is one of Mr. Harrigan's most ambitious efforts. It is a play pure and simple and although there is no lack of Mr. Harrigan's unique humor and life-like scenes from upper and lower life in New York, yet these are aptly brought into the well defined and coherent plot and are not made the predominating point of interest, as in some of Mr. Harrigan's more familiar comedies. Mr. Harrigan's more familiar comedies. Mr. Harrigan has certainly his best character in that of "Old Lavender," the drunkard, with the many incidents of fumor and pathes. Theater goers will gladly welcome this favorite comedian's return to this role after a lapse of so many years. Mr. Harrigan will be supported by his own excellent company, to which he has made some important additions. "Old Lavender will be mounted with all the picturesqueness and realism of the New York production, and the famous songs and choruses of Dave Braham will be heard again with pleasure.

"The Land of the Living."

"The Land of the Living." One of the strongest and most entertaining melodramas from the pen of Frank Harvey will be the attraction at the Grand on Monday and Tuesday nights with matinee Tuesday.

"Paradise Alley."

On next Saturday, at the Lyceum, for matinee and night only, the screaming funny comedy "Paradise Alley." The piece is said to be very funny, full of ludicrous situations. The caste shows some of the very best specialty artists, among them will be found Barney Fagin, Sam J. Ryan, John Queen, Nellie Atherton and a host of others equally as brilliant. With such well known fun makers, as the above artistes, no doubt the Lyceum will be taxed to its utmost capacity at the opening mat-

A TRACK ASSOCIATION.

One Formed by the Wheelmen Last

Monday-Will Find a Track.

A track association was formed by the bicycle dealers of Atlanta Monday night at a meeting held. The meeting was called by Mr. M. Castle, who suggested the idea of forming an association, and there were present M. Copeland, of Copeland & Bishop; F. G. Byrd, of the Western Wheel Works; G. Brice, of the Wheeler & Wilson Company; A. D. Alexander, O. F. Randall, of the Randall Cycle Company; H. B. Campbell, of the Campbell Machine Works, and some fifty local wheelmen. Upon motion of Mr. Campbell Mr. Foote was selected as temporary chairman and Mr. Castle secretary. bicycle dealers of Atlanta Monday night at a

A committee was appointed to visit the different street car routes and see what could be done in reference to getting a track. Another meeting will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at which He Pays $16,000 for a Let on Peters Street.

DEPOT OR WAREHOUSE SITE

No One Here Seems To Know Just What the Southern Will Do With Its Real Estate.

Much interest has been taken in the purchase by Mr. Samuel Spencer, of the Southern, of a small lot adjoining the Atlanta compress property on Peters street. The lot has a frontage of forty-three and one-half feet on Peters street, has a depth of 263 feet, and is irregular in width. The deed, which was prepared and filed by Messrs. Brandon & Arkwright as attor neys for Mr. Spencer, names $16,000 as the consideration. The deed was made by the Atlanta Compress and Warehousing Company. It was only a little while before that the compress company bought the lot, paying $16,000 for it. The compress company, of course, bought the lot for Spencer.

Now, what is Mr. Spencer going to do with this property?

No one here seems to know positively, At least, no one will venture a declaration Messrs. Brandon & Arkwright stated that they could not say what the property was to be used for. Messrs. Dorsey, Brewster & Howell, the Southern's attorneys here, stated that they had no information at all about the transfer.

But a glance at a plat of the property n that part of the city suggests a reason for this last purchase. Some time ago Mr. H. M. Atkinson bought for the Southern a large tract of land across the East Tennessee's tracks. Then some time later the Southern bought the Atlanta compress and its property along the railroad tracks. On the east side of this lot was a smaller one, 43½x203 feet, which extended into the compress company's property. Hed it the compress company's property. Had i been the intention of the Southern to build on the compress property, the shape of the lot on the east side would have pre vented anything large. The smaller lot was needed and had to be bought. The price paid is not considered too small.

That the Southern will build on the property is generally believed. The best plans have been made for the proposed passenger station. It is probable that the Southern intends to have some stores and warehouses alongside of its tracks, if it has to build them. The Western and At-lantic controls nearly all the stores, warehouses and factories in the city. The Southern wants to get some of the Alabama street merchants on its sidetracks. It now owns a large body of real estate running west from Peters street on both

MR. SPENCER IN IT.

Believed To Be Behind the Scenes in the Receivership.

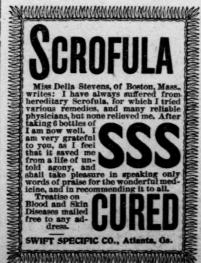

It is said that Mr. Samuel Spencer, presldent of the Southern, assisted in the preparation of the report made by Expert Little on the condition of the Baltimore and Ohio, which report led to the receivership. The report was the straw which broke the camel's back. Had it been favorable, J. P. Morgan would have advanced the $400,000 needed by the company to pay its obligations on Monday. Mr. Spencer was president of the Baltimor and Ohio at one time. His annual state ment was a revelation of the condition of affairs on the inside. Fictitious and worthless assets were marked off and an apparent surplus of $49,000,000 was reduced to $23,000,000. This showing did not suit the Garrett interests, and they proceeded to let Mr. Spencer out. He was soon engaged by Drexel, Morgan & Co., and has been eves since.

Mr. Spencer is well acquainted with the inside of the Baltimore and Ohio. It may be that he will have some connection gan will finance the company during its receivership. This means that when it other properties which are financed by Mr. Morgan-the Southern, the Philadelphia and Reading, and the Santa Fe in the west. Eventually it will appear that the Vanderbilts are interested in all these properties, as The Constitution for several years past has predicted would be the case. In appointment of Oscar G. Mur-ray as a co-receiver of the Baltimore and Ohio with Judge Cowen is another circumstance pointing to that conclusion. Mr. Murray was taken from the Big Four, which is a Vanderbilt property, and given a position on the Baltimore and Ohio only a few weeks ago. No one could see at the time why the place in Baltimore was offered to him. Over on the Big Four he had the backing of President Ingalls, it is said; but there were others who antagonized him and tried to freeze him out. The floating debt of the Baltimore and Ohio is about $14,000,000 and the company needs $7,000,000 to put its rolling stock in good shape. Its capital stock is $25,000,000. The system's entire funded debt is $90,000,-000, according to the last official report been very bad. There are hints of journal entries bearing the initials of the officials requiring them to be made, thus to re-lieve the accountant of the responsibility. The receivership was a great shock to Baltimore and Maryland, which had al-ways looked upon the Baltimore and Ohio as a solid institution.

A QUIET TALK.

President Smith Comes Down To Hold

President Milton Smith, of the Louisville and Nashville, and President Comer, of the Central of Georgia, met at the Kimball yesterday and had a conterence. During the forenoon President Smith, of the At-lanta and West Point, caued, and the three gentlemen spent some time together. Their conference had nothing to do with anything in which Atlanta is interested and did not even concern any one in Georgia, but related to matters wholly outside this state. They may have dis-cussed some Atlanta matters in a casual way, but if so, that was incidental. None of the presidents would talk after the meeting.

Mr. Smith seldom comes to Atlanta, but occasionally, when he wants a quiet talk with some other president at a point where their presence would not suggest the subject of their conference, he runs down here.

ROADBED ON FIRE

An Embankment Is Being Eaten Up and Threatening Great Loss.

It is not often that a railroad company has trouble to keep its real estate from burning up, but the Panhandle is just now trying hard to extinguish a fire of two months' duration, which threatens to undermine the Sheraden yards, says The Pittsburg Post. The ground on which the many tracks at Sheragen are located is made ground, having been formed by fill-ing up an immense ravine nearly ninety feet deep. The work was commenced sev eral years ago, after the Ohio connecting road was opened, and since that time many thousand carloads of material of a heterogeneous nature have been dumped into the nollow. A tunnel several hundred feet long had to be constructed to drain the water out of the depression, and brick shafts were built to carry off the water from the surface. Altogether the work has been the most expensive of the kind undertaken for a number of years in this

Some months ago signs of, subterranean fire were noticed in the big fill, and re-cently the earth and the tracks began to settle, showing that the fire was eating up the great mass of the material rapid-ly. A great deal of ashes and fine coal were dumped in to make the fill, and it is this stuff that is feeding the fire and threatening to cause the company an im-mense amount of damage. A fire company has been employed fighting the fire for several days, and they have a hose stantly throwing water on the place where the fire is most destructive. Another gang of men has been employed to dig into the great embankment so as to get nearer the heart of the conflagration. In spite of all these efforts to stop its progress, the fire is still burning slowly, but as fast as the bank caves in it is filled up, so that the tracks are not seriously damaged.

Why He Could Not Make Time. The Chicago Chronicle tells this one: He was general superintendent of a big ever his trains got to running late the derks in his office always scented trouble cierks in his office always scented trouble. Word was immediately passed round that the "old man" was likely to have another mad fit if So and So, hauling No.—didn't pull into the end of the division on time; and everybody got out of the way who could.

When the morning overland train, which pulled out just about the time the superintendent reached his desk, arrived at the end of the first division, it was reported twenty minutes late. He immediately wired the conductor to know the cause, but got no answer. Several divisions were passed over in the same way, each report showing the train losing time, and repeated telegrams as to the cause failed to bring any response from the train conductor. Finally the "old man" could stand it no longer, and sent a rush message: "For God's sake, why don't you make time?" This answer came back from the consage: "For God's sake, why some make time?"
This answer came back from the con-

The business men of Asheville, N. C. and Rutherfordton, distant apart fortyto build an electric railroad between the two places, via Hickory Nut gap in the Blue Ridge mountains. It was at first proposed to have a steam railroad, but an electric railroad has been decided to be more available for the purpose. The road will connect with the Seaboard Air-Line at Rutherfordton and give Asheville a connection with that road. Mr. Ritchie president of the onnection with that road.

Mr. Ritchie president of the British board of trade, has stated in parliament that in company with Sir Courtenay Boyle and Lord Dudley he has recently visited France and Belgium to inspect the light railroads there, and he came back more "convinced than ever of the great importance of such railroads to the agricultural districts," and more determined to procure legislation on the subject. In Belgium the light roads are carried on by private enterprise, local enterprise and state assistance, jointly, and it seems to be understood that any action taken by the English parliament will include more or less state assistance for the roads of this kind.

An interesting experiment of a practical character is being tried on the Great Western railway in England, in order to "smooth the path of the producer," It is twofold in its character. In the first place, the company has offered to grant lower freight rates if it can be assured loads of at least three tons for a wagon having a carrying capacity of ten tons. In other words, if the producers will aggregate their consignments so as to send them in a bulk, the company will charge a lower tariff. In the second place, the company proposes not only to carry farmers' produce at lower rates, in the circumstances named, but to collect and distribute it as well.

Will Appear at the Y. M. C. A. Monday Night.

The Ariel Ladies Sextet, which is one of the most popular concert companies on the road, will appear in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association next Monday night. The entertainment will be under the auspices of the "Star Course" and will be one of the most enjoyable that has been presented this year. The company, which is composed of six sisters, more commonly known as the six Smith sisters, appeared here last year and created a very favorable impression.

Every member is an artist of unmistakable ability, and the concert given by these charming young ladies is worthy of a large patronage.

Some very pretty novelties are shown in the imported shirts. Certain plain colored French cambric ones are trimmed with fine white insertion and edging, the insertion being worked in raised dots, the same in color as the shirt; the band of very narrow insertion on the cuff is stitched flat, about a quarter of an inchfrom the edge of the cuff, making a very neat finish. Although exceedingly weathy at one time—owning a villa én lake Maggiore and entertaining royality—reverses came to the family and it was necessary for the young men, to study for a profession. Prince Pierre became a painter, Prince Paul a sculptor and Prince Gigi (diminutive for Luigi) a civil engineer. After taking up his residence in London it was some time before the work of Prince Pierre, who signed himself simply Pierre Troubetskoi, received it much attention. He then began to use his title, and it was not long until he received the most flattering notices in every direction. At the time his brother Paul was making a marble bust of Italy's premier, Pierre was engaged upon a portrait of England's premier—Gladstone. Both artists found exceedingly difficult subjects in their sitters, as it was the sitters' custom to chat, getting up and walking nervously about the room, write, and at intervals, on catching the eye of the artist, to pose for a few moments.

Prince Pierre was for a long time devoted to a young English girl, an artist, and it was rumored several times among his friends that they were about to be married. He is thirty-two years old, of fine Almond Souffles.—One cup milk, four ta-blespoonfuls cold milk, three level table-spoons corn starch, one-fourth pound chopped almonds, whites of five eggs. Scald the milk, add the corn starch mixed with the cold milk and stir till it thickens. Cook three minutes, add the almonds and take from the fire. When cooled add the stiffly beaten whites. Fill small souffle cups one-third full, set them in a pan of hot water and bake twenty minutes in a hot oven. Serve with sauce saboyor, as fol-lows: Beat the yolks of the five eggs in a small saucepan with five tablespoonfuls powdered sugar until light colored and creamy; add half a cup of canned cherry or peach juice. When ready to serve place the saucepan over hot water or a gentle heat and stir until the sugar melts and the Wemen and Advertising.

A practical woman, who doesn't care a button whether the United States recognizes the fact that there is a slight disturbance in Cuba, says that the most in-teresting things in the newspapers to her are the advertising columns. She has to economize, and it is money in her pocket to know where she can get things cheapest and best. There's a good deal said now about the practical pages in the papers and magazines; but there are none more useful or practical than the ones which contains the announcements of reputable business houses. The housekeaper who takes advantage of the hints thus given shows a great deal more common sense than she who tries to furnish her house with soap boxes covered with denim worked in floss. Merchants who advertise are alive. They sell more goods and can afford to sell cheaper. The poet who said that "man wants but little here below" never read the Sunday advertisements of up-to-date merchants. They remind you of many things you would like to have, and you go and buy them. are the advertising columns. She has Hints from Paris. A correspondent writes: Shopping in Paris teaches us many things, and among others the new uses to which are put familiar substances. A fashionable trimming for ladies' black capes is now a gelatin lozenge. The "sequin," as it is called, 's a thin, small pastille, dead black, and having the effect of jet. Each sequin is sewn on the effect of jet. Each sequin is sewn on separately, and with each garment the purchaser does well to buy a box of the ornaments, as they are liable to drop off...

Fortunately for the wearer of gelatin trimming, rain, at least in our hemisphere, does not descend warm, otherwise the dec orative part of a mantle would dissolve it a shower. In cold water the new substitute for jet loses neither substance no color. Cheapness and lightness are the ad vantages of this edible haberdashery.

The beauty already displayed in the wash goods brought out this season is unusual, and the fact that there is as charming a blending of colors in the cheap-er materials as in the more expensive

Four physicians in consultation last night gave the family no hope and her death is momentarily expected. Mrs. Bugg moved to Atlanta last summer from New York.

Miss Julia Gerding, of Edgewood, Ga., and her uncle and aunt, of New York, are visiting relatives in Greensboro, Ga. The Washington Post says: "Among the distinguished women of Virginia present at the meeting of the Daughters is Mrs. Green, of Culpeper, formerly a regent, but now a high private in the order. She was prominently associated with the Virginia board at the World's Columbian exposition, and recently a member of the colonial com-

SOCIETY SMALL TALK.

Without being somewhat in sympathy with their principles of belief it would be difficult to fully appreciate the difficulties at present agitating the American branch of the Salvation Army. Miss Eva C. Booth, the new leader, though but twenty years of age, has had a remarkable career and there are many evidences in the history of her yet young life that indicate a remarkable strength of character and earnestness in the practice and teachings of her religions.

one strength of character and earnestness in the practice and teachings of her relig-ious creed. Before she had reached her twentieth year she had begun her life of actual heroism when The Pall Mall Gazette revelations convulsed London, and the Salvation Army took a prominent part in the trouble. Indignant citizens of the lower classes who objected to being expose or saved according to the army's methods, spent a great deal of time bombarding its eadquarters and making things unpleasan for officers and privates. The greatest trouble was connected with an army build-ing in the very heart of London's slums.

Eva Booth was sent there to restore peace. She did it and incidentally had her first baptism of blood and fire, and her experience in the line of physical as well as spirit-ual warfare. Day after day she and her little band of women marched out as a target for sticks and stones, and day after day they marched back very much bruised, but still full of cheerful enthusiasm. It was on one of these occasions that Eva must take care of her. She explained to him that he was stronger than she and she actually succeeded in making him call on his followers and escort her and her companions safely home. Subsequently, when she lay at death's door, this youth pawned his vest and bought a bunch of white grapes which he brought to the door of her sick room in the most Chesterfieldian manner. Little things like this happen frequently in books, but it is a pleasure

Dawson, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—There was a most delightful entertainment given by the young people of Dawson last Wednesday evening at Hart's opera house. The entertainment showed earnest and successful preparation had been made to wel rendered and deserves special mention.

Every feature on the programme was wel rendered and deserves special mention.

Special notice should be given Miss Alida Craven, from Union Springs, Ala., who took part in this entertainment. Miss Craven's reputation as an elocutionist of great power was exhibited in a marked degree.
She is exceedingly graceful in her delivery and charmed the audience with her recitations. Each time she appeared she was encored so vociferously she was compelled to respond once or twice.

The cultivated voice of Miss Arnie Barnett, of Eufaula, Ala., added much to the pleasure of the audience. This sweet singer will long be remembered by the people of Macon. Indeed, Georgia makes her most deferential bow and extends cordial thanks to Alabama for the loan of her two fair and highly cultured daughters.

Waveross Ga March 3 (Special) The The attack was a particularly bitter one. The toughs with whom the Salvationists were struggling were bad specimens of their kind. Miss Kathleen Jones, sub-chairman of the library committee, reported that Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Atkinson visited the hospital every week to read to the patients. Some of the leading magazines have been ordered and the large list of books now there are a source of much pleasure to the patients.

The visiting committee, under the direction of Miss Margaret Newman, is making an active canvass of the city for comfortable rocking chairs to add to the comfort of the indigent patients. They are meeting with great success from some of the seading merchants.

Mrs. Henry W. Grady tendered her resignation as chairman of the delicacy committee on account of an extended future absence from the city. Miss Joan Clarke was elected in her place. The association consists of some of the most prominent ladies in Atlanta and they are greatly encouraged over their excellent work for the hospital.

PLEADING FOR HER OLD SERVANT Mrs. Green Petitions the President to Pardon Albert Green.

From The Washington Post.

From The Washington Post.

Mrs. James W. Green, of Culpeper, Va., is making strenuous efforts to secure the pardon of Albert Green, colored, who was convicted of murder in this city a number of years ago, and who was sentenced to death, but whose sentence was commuted to life imprisonment in the Albany penitentiary by President Harrison. The conviced man had been a servant of Mrs. Green, of Culpeper; in fact, was brought up on her place, having strayed there as a walf during the war. She named him and kept him as a servant until 1882, when he came to Washington. A few years later, while serving as a coachman, he quarreled with James Lucas, also colored, and stabbed him with a knife with which he had been mending harness.

At his trial no friends appeared and he

At his trial no friends appeared and he was quickly convicted. Mrs. Green, who had been at Atlanta, came north, and then learned of her former servant's plight and that he was about to be hanged. She interceded for him and President Harrison changed the death penalty to imprisonment for life.

The case has now been presented to Presi-hary circumstance the crime.

The commuting of Green's sentence from death to life imprisonment was President Harrison's first act of elemency and Mrs. Green is quite hopeful that President Cleveland will take an interest in the case now that it has been again brought up for the consideration of a president.

Columbus NEWS OF THE COURTS

Three Legal Mills Ground Out Business Yesterday.

MANY CRIMINAL CASES HEARD

The Appearance Docket Was Called in the City Court and Cases Were Set for Next Week.

The civil branch of the superior court, the first division of the city court and the criminal branch of the city court were in

The superior court was occupied with the hearing of the Mercier disbarment case, and the greater portion of the session was consumed in the trial and testimony of witnesses. A verdict was found against Mercier by the jury and a judgment was entered by the court against the defendant.

The first division of the city court, presided over by Judge Reid, was in session for a while yesterday morning. The ap-pearance docket was called and cases set for a hearing next week. The remainder of this week will be devoted to hearing pleas, demurrers and answers which were filed Monday. Several judgments were taken by the court, after which a recess was taken until this morning. The criminal branch of the city court held quite a busy session yesterday and a number of bond cases were disposed of. Solicitor O'Neill was fortunate with his cases and convicted every prisoner who was placed on trial.

Tried on Criminal Charges.

Four cases was the number tried before Judgo Berry. Of this number, a verdict of guilty was returned in three and the fourth was concluded as the hour of adjournment was reached, and the jury was instructed to return a sealed verdict in the case, which will be opened in court this morning

J. A. Warbington, a white man, was the first to be tried in the criminal branch of the city court. He was charged with assault and battery and a little boy named Theodore Sanders was placed upon the stand to testify how he was struck with a stick of wood by Warbington. The evidence showed that Sanders was hit a severe lick over the head by the prisoner and he was said to have been seriously wounded. A verdict of guilty was returned by the jury and Judge Berry announced that he would reserve his sentence until this morning.

Monroe Cooper was charged with having nade an assault upon Mr. J. W. Ward. The evidence showed that Cooper was drunk several nights ago and in that condition went to the boarding house where Mr. Ward was staying. Cooper created quite a disturbance, it is said, in the kitchen and Mr. Ward was called on to quiet the negro When Mr. Ward entered the kitchen and told the negro that he must be quiet, it is claimed that Cooper picked up a large bread knife and made an assault upon Mr. Ward. Cooper was given a fine of $100 or twelve months on the public works.
Oliver Andrews, a negro boy, was tried on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was found to be guilty and was given a fine of $50 or six months.

Lawyer Made Defendant. S. D. Johnson, an attorney, was defend-ant yesterday in a case which was brought by W. H. Beaumont.

The evidence in the case was to the effect that Attorney Johnson had caused a levy or an attachment to be made on some of the furniture in the possession of Beau-mont and that the legal process was taken mont and that the legal process was taken to be a personal matter.

The principals in the case met several days ago in the courtroom of Justice of the Peace Orr and words were passed by the two. The dispute, it is said, was brought to an abrupt conclusion by Johnson striking Beaumont, knocking him across the table.

Suit was then brought by Beaumont charging Johnson with assault and battery. The case was reached just after noon and the testimony was all in and the jury was charged when the hour for adjournment of court arrived. Judge Berry instructed the jury to return a sealed verdict to be opened in court this morning when it reconvenes. Court then adjourned for the day.

Granted a Total Divorce.

Granted a Total Divorce. Mrs. Francis B. Donnelly was granted a total divorce from her husband Henry Donkin. The petition of Mrs. Donnelly showed that she married at a very early age, when she was little mcre than a child, and that the marital bliss pictured to her had never materialized.

The young wife accused her husband of cruci treatment and drunkenness and prayed that a total divorce be granted her. The jury granted her petition and her maiden name was restored her.

Admitted to the Bar.

Mr. Victor H. Wallace, who recently came to Atlanta from Oklahoma, was on yesterday admetted to practice in the state courts.

At the same time Mr. L. D. Teaclequimby, of Virginia, was admitted to the bar.

LAMB NOT WANTED.

He Is Not Wanted for Passing Counterfeit Money.

It developed yesterday that the charge against Mr. W. G. 'Lamb, of passing counterfeit money to Mr. C. P. Johnson, was based on an error. Mr. Lamb, after reading of the matter in yesterday's paper, went to Mr. Johnson and the matter was soon explained and Mr. Johnson gave Mr. Lamb a letter thoroughly exonerating him. The following letters explain the matter: "Editor Constitution: I nofice in your issue of today an article headed, "Bill Lamb Wanted," etc., and the article itself proceeds to charge me with the offense of passing counterfeit money and other matters tending to degrade me before the public. You will therefore kindly publish the following:

of passing counterfeit money and other matters tending to degrade me before the public. You will therefore kindly publish the following:

"On Monday afternoon I borrowed of a friend $10, which was given me in two $5 notes. This occurred in front of C. P. Johnson's saloon. I then asked my friend to come in and have a glass of beer, which he did, and in payment for the beer I handed the bartender one of the $5 bills, which I had not as yet placed in my pocket. I did not notice the bill particularly and had no idea but what it was all right. I received my change and thought nothing more of the matter until the article in today's issue of your paper was called to my attention. I immediately sought Mr. C. P. Johnson and was referred by him to Detective Taylor, who I also found, and was shown the bill. It was not counterfeit, but a genuine bank bill issued by the Bank of Mecklenberg, in the state of North Carolina. I thereupon reimbursed Mr. Johnson and received the bill. This is positively the first I knew that anything was wrong with the money, and there was no intention on my part to pass worthless money on Mr. Johnson or any one else. Your article therefore d'd me a great injustice. Yours truly, BILL LAMB."

"To the public: After thoroughly investigating the circumstances, an account of which appeared in The Constitution of this date, in regard to the passing of a counterfeit, $5 bill upon my barkeeper, on yesterday, by Mr. W. E. Lamb, I am thoroughly convinced that same was an error, was unintentional and that I desire to rectify the wrong that said publication might do. The bill mentioned was not a counterfeit, but was a North Carolina state bill and had been given Mr. Lamb a few moments before presentation at my bar.

What Two Ladies Had To Say.

"I wish I could only do something or take something that would make me feel strong and well," said a tired, worn-looking woman recently. "I can eat nothing, I have no appetite, I suffer badly from indigestion and tired, miserable feelings. I can get no relief."

There are thousands of women who find themselves in exactiy the same condition as this lady. They are feeling out of sorts and "under the weather." They seem to require something to stimulate them, renew their vitality and give them new life. The question is what ought they to do in order to feel well?

The best answer to this question is to be found in the following opinions of some reliable people who speak from experience:

some reliable people who speak from experience:

Mrs. Ella Feddermann, 291 West Fayette street, Baltimore, says: "Some time ago I suffered from terrible sinking spells and headaches as the result of a run-down system and extreme nervousness. I obtained no relief until a friend persuaded me to try Duffy's pure malt whiskey. After using it for only a short time I became fully restored to health."

Mr. John Kelley Chase, of Amesbury, Mass, says: "For six years past my wife suffered from insomnia and nervous prostration. Her physicians recommended the use of a gentle stimulant. She has lately tried Duffy's pure malt whiskey with excellent results. It has induced sleep and is building up her health. While Mrs. Chase has always been stanch in her temperance principles, she has no hesitation in recommending Duffy's pure malt to every one who needs the help of a healthful stimulant."

Every person who has ever tried Duffy's pure mait whiskey finds that it has a wonderful effect in promoting health. There is nothing like it for driving away blue, despondent feelings and making weak, sickly people strong and vigorous.

SUPPORT FROM THE ALLIANCE "NON-PARTISAN" ORGANIZATION

Watson's People's Party Paper Is Supported Partly by the Alliance-An Editor Jumps on Watson.

SUPPORTING THE P. P. P.

The Farmers' Alliance, of Georgia, or ganized several years ago as a non-partisan farmers' alliance, is now a strict par-tisan affair and conducted strictly on a partisan basis. This had been so for some time, but now there is not one bit of nonpartisanism about the Farmers' Alliance. In 1896 the Farmers' Alliance in Georgia was a strong organization, but its principals were soon violated by some of its leaders, who made it a partisan organization. Ever since it has been a populist stronghold, no democrats belonging.

The alliances in nearly all the counties have openly given their funds in the state treasurer's hands to the support of The Peoples' Party Paper, published by Our Publishing Company, with Tom Watson at the head. They get so much stock for the support they give the populist organ, but whether it will be a paying business or not is not known. It is now certainly a fact that most of the alliancemen of Division in the Ranks. There is division in the ranks of the third party of Georgia. This time it is W. T. Christopher, who publishes a populist paper at Montezurva, called The Farmers' Watchman, who has attacked ulist paper at Montezurva, called The Farmers' Watchman, who has attacked Chief Watson. The Montezuma editor calls Watson "a chron.c office seeker," etc., etc. Watson comes back in his paper and cuts Christopher in his quaint style. Appealing to his populist friends, he asks where Christopher was in '92 and '93. He refers the readers to Judge Hines and other populists to find where he himself was.

Watson says, in answering the attack of his brother populist editor, that if he is a chronic office seeker, he will continue to be one, as he has the interest of his party at heart always. The division is not apt to be very destructive to third party harmony, unless the privates take this matter up, and it is supposed that the two generals will get friendly before they will allow this.

The national executive committee of the populist party will meet within a few weeks to decide where the national convention of the party will be held this year. A few of the delegates from Georgia want the convention held in Atlanta, but most of the leaders are not willing to give it to Atlanta, except Atlanta bid for it in some practical way: for instance, offer to defray a certain amount of the expenses, as St. Louis did.

A Normal School for Atlanta. A Normal School for Atlanta.

Editor Constitution: The object proposed in the suggestion of a normal school for Atlanta is a most excellent one. To secure good teachers, to grade them according to efficiency and pay them according to grade, are considerations worthy of most careful attention and thought. Can these objects be secured through a normal school? If so can it be done any better than through the school machinery we now have?

1. The first requisite in a teacher is a knowledge of the subjects to be taught. It is assumed that our high schools can, and do, impart all the knowledge required by a teacher in any of the grades in our public schools.

2. The second requisite is a gift for teach-knowledge of the subjects to be taught. It is assumed that our high schools can, and do, impart all the knowledge required by a teacher in any of the grades in our public schools.

2. The second requisite is a gift for teaching. This is inborn. Practice and experience may improve the natural gift, but cannot create or impart it. The teacher, as the poet, is born not made. The gift of teaching is composed of many elements; capacity for establishing proper relations between teacher and pupil; for commanding respect; for securing confidence and attachment; tact in avoiding antagonisms and the wounding of pride; insight into the nature of the pupil, so as to play skillfully upon his motives, quickness in perceiving the difficulties in a pupil's mind which prevent his apprehension of the lesson in hand, and the power of adapting the presentation of a subject to the capacity and acquirements of a pupil. These are invaluable gifts which cannot be imparted by a normal or any other school.

3. Another requisite greatly emphasized by many, is familiarity with so called modern methods of teaching—such as object lessons, written exercises, written examinations, etc. It is assumed that the teachers in our public schools are perfectly familiar with these methods and employ them in their daily work whenever it is proper to do so. Their students, therefore, have every opportunity to become familiar with these methods.

4. Another requisite insisted upon by many is thorough training in proper modes of presenting and unfolding the subjects taught. Here again it is assumed that the teachers are shilled in presenting and unfolding subjects in a proper manner—their pupils witness it daily and have the best or opportunities for learning these modes in the easiest manner possible, towit: by imitation.

Assuming, therefore, that we have first-class teachers in our high schools—and Atlanta prides hereself on having such—we do not see that a normal school, could accomplish the first of the three objects named, towit: The second object s of a teacher's work, but as we have seen, do not cover the whole ground.

If Atlanta should establish a normal school we take it the graduates of her high schools would be its principal pupils. It is her policy to select her teachers from these, other things being equal. She would not organize a normal school, admitting pupils of such grades, as would compete with her present graded schools. Hence in such a school a, candidate for a teacher's certificate could not be supplied with such a class as he would have to deal with in his future work, and his efficiency as a teacher could not be fully tested.

It would seem, therefore, that a normal school would not meet the exigencies of the case. An actual, practical test being the only means of estimating the efficiency of a teacher, we see no available method of applying such test except by a short term of service in our ordinary schools. How would it do to adopt the government's civil service plan of holding examinations from time to time for such as desire to become teachers in the public schools. From a list of those most successful in the examinations the vacancies in the lower grades might be filled as they occur. But the novitiate should be on probation, and a board consisting, say of the superintendent of public schools and the teachers of the high schools, should examine his or her work during a reasonable time, and if not satisfactory discharge him or her and try another. As vancancies occur in the higher grades they might be filled by promoting those in the lower grades who have shown most capacity and efficiency. As to the third object mentioned—scaling the pay according to grade in efficiency, that may be very properly left to the board of education.
